Gandhi Declares Campaign In India Is To Be Continued

NO EARLY END OF INDIANS' DISOBEDIENCE

Opposition to Government Will Continue at Least Till Nationalist Leaders Meet

Gandhi, Centre of Enormous Throngs in Bombay, States His Attitude

Canadian Press.
Bombay, Jan. 27.—"We can suspend judgment on Prime Minister MacDonald's statement of policy at the Round-Table Conference in London," said Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the Indian Nationalists to-day, "but we can not suspend the activities of the Congress Party."

The first statement of policy from Gandhi since his release from prison shortly before last midnight was in line with the earlier decision of the working committee of the Nationalist Congress. The campaign of civil disobedience instituted a year ago in an effort to force the hand of the British Government this is to be continued as before.

LEADERS TO MEET

The attitude of the Nationalists on the British Prime Minister's pronouncement of policy, looking to the eventual establishment of the draft constitution which was formulated at London, is expected to be taken in about two weeks' time, after the arrival of three of the outstanding Indians who attended the conference.

These three leaders, Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, M. A. Jinnah and M. R. Jayakar, requested Gandhi to wait for their arrival before announcing his decision on the results of the Round-Table Conference.

BOYCOTT CAMPAIGN

The National Congress includes boycott of non-India made cloth, refusal to pay taxes, and picketing of liquor, drug and non-India cloth stores.

The Mahatma issued today's statement as he squatted on a stone floor here surrounded by newspaper men. He again endorsed the measures taken by the Congress Party looking to the securing of independence for India.

Associated Press Staff Writer—Copyright
Bombay, Jan. 27.—Wild tumultuous multitudes surrounded Mahatma Gandhi on his arrival here to-day from the Yeroda Prison, and gave him one of the greatest ovations of his strange career. Only after hours of cheering and acclamation such as few men have known, could he break away.

"If you love me, go home," he said to the throng. "Go home and spin yarn and bring it to me. This is the greatest service you can render India and myself. I am weary after my sleepless night on the train and if you are merciful you will disperse."

ACCORDED WORSHIP

Women then garlanded him with flowers and entwined his neck with many yards of thin homespun yarn. Outside the house where he will reside the crowds, whose emotions had reached the heights of religious ecstasy, prostrated themselves before the mystical leader in adoration, and worshipped him as if he were a god.

SCULLER LOOKS AT PLANE AND TAKES DUCKING

St. Catharines, Ont., Jan. 27.—Bobby Pearce, Australian sculler star who has been winter training against the seven-mile current of the old Welland Canal, took an unexpected bath in the frigid waters yesterday while he was pulling against the current, it became known to-day. William Drury, an aviator, was cutting capers in the air which brought him close to the water. Pearce, in turning his head to watch the plane, lost his balance and upset his shell in midstream. The Australian swam to shore, pulling his shell behind him.

Oliver, M.A., Ph.D., F.R.S.C., Moderator of the United Church in Canada, will be the guest speaker at a Canadian Club luncheon to be held on Saturday 12.15 o'clock in the Empress Hotel ballroom. Following the luncheon, members of the Women's Canadian Club and the New Educational Fellowship will be admitted to the ballroom to hear Dr. Oliver's address.

Niagara Falls Changes Its Shape With Rock Slide, and Another Slip Is Predicted

The above picture, reproduced from a photo, gives Times readers an impression of what happened a week ago when part of the rock under the crest of the United States section of Niagara Falls broke away and fell into the gorge. The dotted line indicates the position of the old crest. The rock slide thus gave the United States a horseshoe falls, though it is a miniature U in comparison with the great and world-famous horseshoe on the Canadian side, over which by far the larger part of the river's water flows. It was the greatest fall of rock at Niagara since the first white men saw the Falls, hundreds of thousands of tons going down. There may be a further fall of rock on the United States side. A forty-foot crack in the crest line of the falls near Prospect Point side, visible in the distance, has been reported.

Lundborg, Hero Flier Of Arctic, Loses Life AS MINISTER

Swedish Pilot Who Rescued Noble Dies After Plane Crash at Stockholm

Stockholm, Jan. 27.—Captain Einar Paul Lundborg, Swedish aviator, who rescued Captain Noble after the disastrous Arctic flight of the dirigible Italia, died to-day of injuries received this morning in an air-plane accident.

It was a new type of pursuit plane Lundborg was testing for the army at the Malmselet field. The flier, who was lifted unconscious from the wreckage of the machine. Both his arms and both his legs were broken and he received a concussion of the brain.

HIS GREAT FLIGHTS

In June, 1928, Lundborg flew from Spitzbergen, landed on a polar ice floe where the Noble party was stranded, took Noble aboard and flew back.

He returned to pick up other members of the Italia party, but damaged his plane in landing and was unable to get away. A fortnight later he was saved by a colleague before he was taken to the hospital.

BRITISH LABOR M.P.'S VOTE DOWN MOSLEY SCHEME

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 27.—This afternoon at a meeting of the Labor Party the MacDonald Government bested off, at least for the present, an attack by the party's left wing which demanded a party conference on unemployment.

A resolution to this effect, sponsored by the young insurgent Sir Oswald Mosley, was defeated by 97 to 19. Mosley had warned he would make such a move, but Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, arguing against it to-day, said it would be a mistake to call such a conference before the Premier had made known his unemployment programme in a pronouncement scheduled for some time next week.

Mr. MacDonald himself did not attend to-day's gathering of the party.

LADY HOUSTON FINANCES RACING PLANE OF BRITAIN

London, Jan. 27.—Lady Lucy Houston of Jersey to-day said she would donate enough money from her own funds to see Great Britain again be represented in the Schneider Cup races for seaplanes.

LIBERAL M.P.'S TO ATTEND EVENT IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Jan. 27.—Tickets are being issued for the banquet to be held by Laurier Club and the Lady Laurier Club of Vancouver, in honor of the British Columbia Liberal members of Parliament Friday, February 6.

The dinner will be held, starting at 7 p.m., in the oval room of the Hotel Vancouver. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, member for Vancouver, Centre, will deliver the address of the evening, his topic to be "The Imperial Conference."

W. A. Fraser, M.P. for Northumberland County, Ontario, who is a visitor in Vancouver, will also speak briefly. Efforts to have all the B.C. Liberal members in attendance are being made.

MONTREAL IS CANADA CAPITAL, DECLARES ATLAS

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 27.—There is a map-maker in England who is not very well up on his Canada. An English-made atlas recently supplied to public school students here lists Montreal as the capital of the Dominion. Bringing the error to the attention of the city council, Alderman R. G. Pusehman expressed the opinion Ottawa had been seriously slighted in favor of Montreal.

PROHIBITION SEEN AS CHIEF ISSUE OF 1932 U.S. ELECTION

By Ken Clark, Canadian Press Staff
Washington, Jan. 27.—Prohibition will be the issue in the presidential campaign in the United States in 1932. If President Hoover maintains the stand he took in transmitting the report of the Wickersham Commission on prohibition to Congress, he will head the dry forces of the Republican Party, to which will be drawn the out-and-out dry Democrats. Students of the situation are inclined to predict a wet Democratic candidate standing on a wet platform. The election, in a sense, therefore will amount to a referendum on prohibition.

It will not be a fair referendum in as much as party loyalty will confuse

FENTON QUILTS AS MINISTER IN AUSTRALIA

Resigns From Scullin Cabinet Because Theodore Reappointed Treasurer

Canadian Press Cable Via Reuters
Canberra, Australia, Jan. 27.—A split of serious proportions has developed in the Australian Labor Party over the Prime Minister's decision to take Hon. E. G. Theodore back into the cabinet as Commonwealth Treasurer.

To-day Hon. J. E. Fenton, Minister of Trade and Customs, resigned from the cabinet despite the plea of the Prime Minister that his resignation would weaken the government's prestige and perhaps lead to an early general election.

A caucus of the party yesterday evening endorsed the Prime Minister's decision to reappoint Mr. Theodore as Commonwealth Treasurer, from which post Mr. Theodore resigned last summer after charges of fraud had been (Continued on Page 2)

INQUIRY HERE FRIDAY INTO RIPPLE ROCK

Federal Board to Sit Here on Question of Removing Seymour Narrows Rock

Supporters of Bridge Project Plan Vigorous Fight Against Action

A Federal commission headed by L. E. Cote, chief engineer of the Federal Department of Marine, will open an inquiry here Friday morning into the question of Ripple Rock, city officials were notified this morning by Col. A. W. R. Wilby, local agent for the department.

E. E. Brydson-Jack, Vancouver district engineer for the Department of Public Works, and C. E. Cartwright, Vancouver civil engineer, will sit with Mr. Cote and the session will be held in the council chamber at the City Hall commencing at 10.30 o'clock.

Col. Wilby stated that any Victorians wishing to make representations in regard to the new famous rock would be given an opportunity to do so if they make arrangements. The same commission will open a hearing in Vancouver to-morrow morning on the question, when evidence to the effect that the rock constitutes a serious menace to navigation will be heard.

Supporters of the Seymour Narrows bridge project, including Ald. R. T. Williams of this city, are expected to vigorously oppose this view in arguments before the board. The subject is not a new one in Victoria and a hard fight against any plans to remove the rock is anticipated.

Notification that the board would sit here came after action had been instituted by the City Council yesterday evening to have the commission come to the city. Aid. Williams brought up the question and asked that Col. Wilby be asked to instruct the commissioners to sit here.

As far as the city is concerned, the matter has been left in the hands of the industrial committee of which Alderman Williams is a member and which is headed by Alderman W. T. Strath. This committee meets this afternoon to consider representations to the inquiry board.

SAANICH REEVE TO "SIT TIGHT"

William Crouch Says Re-election Validates Office Holding

Saanich Police Commission Considered Annual Estimates Yesterday

Indicating confidence that his tenure of the reeve's office of Saanich was unassailable, Reeve William Crouch yesterday evening presided at the first meeting of the Saanich Board of Police Commissioners, held at the Municipal Hall.

Preceding the commission session, Reeve Crouch signed large numbers of cheques for approved municipal accounts and payroll. He considered this an indication of his confidence in his legal standing since re-election.

The reeve announced that he was prepared to contest all attempts to unseat him and would "sit tight" on the basis that the recent election had replaced him in the reeve's office beyond possibility of legal attack.

SAYS POSITION STUBBORN
He contended that he could not be unseated under Municipal Act clauses advanced by a delegation which waited on the council last Thursday, as he had never been formally disqualified, having forfeited any action to that end by tendering his resignation.

The reeve doubted the applicability of another section of the act, which imposes a forfeit of $2,500 on disqualified persons who are elected to municipal offices. He definitely stated: "I am going to stay where the voters have placed me."

A sealed official report on the status of Reeve Crouch, prepared by the municipal solicitor at the request of the council, will be opened at a special meeting of the council to be held on Thursday evening.

POLICE COST UNCHANGED
The police commission considered the annual estimates and one-half of the items were tentatively approved. It was indicated the police would cost approximately $19,000, practically the same amount as was required last year.

Commissioner A. E. Scalf was sworn in for his third two-year term earlier in the week by Magistrate George Jay.

BIG MERGER OF NEWSPRINT MILLS SOON

Montreal Dispatch Says $600,000,000 Grouping in Eastern Canada

According to Rumor, Abitibi Will Be Chosen as the Holding Company

Toronto, Jan. 27.—A special dispatch to The Toronto Star from Montreal to-day said:

"So far have negotiations proceeded toward a great $600,000,000 newspaper-merger of Abitibi, St. Lawrence, Backus-Brooks Interests, Canada Power and Paper Corporation and the Canadian International Paper Co., it was learned here to-day, that only an acceptance unit of valuation and financial structure for one of the companies is now necessary to ensure final arrangements and change the whole outlook for the second of the great industries on which Canada's prosperity is built."

"While it is very difficult to obtain details and accurate figures on the proposed capital structure of the merger, it became clear from several sources to-day that the large holding company would probably be Abitibi and the control would remain in Canada. The bonds of all the separate companies would be left as they are. The holding company would, however, call in the preferred stock of the separate companies joining the merger and issue new preferred stock."

SHORTER WORK WEEK

Winnipeg, Jan. 27.—Reduction in the working hours of the 4,000 employees in the Canadian Pacific Railway shops in western Canada is being put into effect this week, according to a report current in union circles to-day.

OLYMPIA TO VICTORIA BOAT RACE IS PLANNED

Olympia, Wash., Jan. 27.—Cancellation of future Olympia-to-Juneau motorboat races and the substitution of races from the capital city to Victoria, B.C., were announced here to-day by Ernest Mallory, vice-commander of the Olympia Yacht Club. The yacht club and the Olympia Chamber of Commerce have been co-sponsors of the Olympia-to-Juneau events in the past.

The long time necessary for entrants to make the run to Alaska and back forced the change in plans.

MRS. BRUCE'S PLANE IN MUD AT BALTIMORE

British Woman Flier Who Visited Victoria Is Slightly Injured

Plane Little Damaged When It Turns Over at Take-off

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 27.—Hon. Mrs. Victor Bruce, British flier on a world steamship and plane trip, was injured this afternoon when her plane overturned at the Glenn L. Martin Airport as she started to leave here for Washington.

The accident occurred as the plane's wheels bogged in mud off the runway. The plane turned completely over, but Mrs. Bruce climbed out almost immediately as spectators ran up.

CUT AND BRUISED
She apparently suffered only a few cuts and bruises, and the plane did not seem badly damaged.

"On landing here this morning after a flight from Baysbrook, where she was forced down late yesterday on her way from Pittsburgh, the wheels of the plane stuck in the mud in a corner of the field."

Mrs. Bruce was to be received at the British Embassy at Washington.

Mrs. Bruce passed through Victoria in the course of her round-the-world journey, having crossed the Pacific aboard a liner from Japan, to which country she had made a solo flight from England.

LOW DEATH RATE OF B.C. INFANTS

Below That of Any Other Province and One of Smallest in the World

The natural increase per thousand population in British Columbia in 1929 was 6.7, according to the vital statistics report just issued by the B.C. Government. It was the lowest for five years. There were 5,397 deaths, the rate per thousand population being 10.8, as compared with 10.1 in 1928. Births totaled 10,378, as against 10,385 for 1928, giving a rate of 17.6 per thousand population, as against 17.8 for the year 1928.

Large numbers of delayed registrations of birth continue to be received by the registrar. Deaths of children under one year of age during 1928 numbered 575, giving a rate per thousand living births of 53.4, as compared with 50.4 in the year 1928.

British Columbia continues to have the lowest infant-mortality rate of the provinces in the Dominion, and has one of the lowest rates in the world.

KING ZOG IS ILL

Vienna, Jan. 27.—Albanian diplomats to-day said their king, Zog I, who will arrive in Vienna to-morrow to see specialists here, probably would be advised to seek rest in an Austrian sanatorium or health resort. The exact nature of the king's ailment was not disclosed, but it is believed to be throat trouble. He is said to have been working incessantly for five years and to be badly run down.

One Man in Custody in Ontario and Two in Nova Scotia

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The liquor, valued at $18,000, seized some time ago by customs preventive men at Truro, N.S., was destined to the United States, officers of the Department of Revenue believe. In connection with this seizure three men, Harry Low of Windsor, Ont., J. Ross Byrne of Liverpool, N.S., and Captain George Downey, also of Liverpool, have been arrested. The last named was taken into custody yesterday evening at Cornwall, Ont. The short-circuiting of the liquor back into Canada was a major transitory stage from St. Pierre, Miquelon, it is stated.

Low's arrest once more brings into public prominence an individual who featured largely in the royal commission hearings on customs and excise several years ago. According to the interim report of the commission, Low was a member of a group regarded as "the most active dealers in beer and liquor in the Windsor district."

The report said: "Their business has principally been supplying beer and liquor to be smuggled into the United States. Their activities have been personal and through various organizations."

By W. R. Wheatley, Canadian Press Staff Writer

New York, Jan. 27.—The officer in charge of the U.S. coast-guard cutter 145 when it mortally wounded Captain William P. Cluett of Lunenburg, N.S., when shelling the Canadian motor vessel Josephine K. last Saturday night was intoxicated when he boarded the Josephine K., according to First Mate Wesley Anderson, a native of Newfoundland, who to-day is nominally in command of the seized vessel.

Anderson told the Canadian Press to-day there was no question of doubt on the point and declared the officer had admitted it.

Speaking directly to Anderson, the officer, named by the Josephine K.'s mate as K. Schmidt, boat-swain, said: "Don't let those fellows give me any more liquor. I am too drunk now."

That was after a shell from the cutter had crashed through the Josephine K.'s pilot house and struck Captain Cluett, who died a short time later in a Staten Island hospital.

TREASON OF SHOOTING
"The man threatened to shoot one of our crew, Allan Falkenham," said Anderson. "He went up to Falkenham and I heard him say: 'You are not one of the members of the crew and I'll have to shoot you.' With that he pointed a gun at Falkenham, but did not fire. Falkenham's home is in Lunenburg."

SHOWS RECEIPT
In support of his contention that Schmidt was in charge of the CG-145 Anderson produced a receipt purporting to have been signed by the officer in charge of the cutter. The receipt, although New York papers have stated the man in command was "officially" known to have been Karl Schmidt.

Digby, N.S., is the port of registry of the Josephine K.

U.S. Coastguard Base, Clifton, Staten Island, N.Y., Jan. 27.—A bottle of champagne from the contraband cargo of the Canadian motorship Josephine K. was found here yesterday afternoon by an official searching party in the hold of U.S. Coastguard Cutter 180, the boat which brought to shore the run ship's captain, William P. Cluett, mortally wounded Saturday by coastguard fire.

HARRY STONE IS IN HANDS OF SEATTLE POLICE

Shot in Shoulder and Captured By Detectives

Associated Press. Seattle, Jan. 27.—Harry Stone, believed by police to have been a member of the gang which participated in the $44,000 Everett bank robbery and holdups of California passenger trains, was in a hospital here to-day. He was shot through the shoulder yesterday evening and captured after a fierce struggle.

Four detectives captured Stone as he was about to flee from his apartment in an automobile. They dragged him from his car to the street, where he pulled a pistol from his pocket and in the struggle it was discharged twice. No one was injured. He then shouted: "Help! I'm being held up! Help!"

DETECTIVE FIRED BULLET. A uniformed patrolman answered his cries, whereupon Stone began to struggle again before the detectives could warn the patrolman. Detective V. L. Webb then shot Stone in the shoulder as he continued his fight for freedom. He was taken to a hospital.

Stone's woman companion, who gave her name as Gladys Rogers, was arrested in their apartment. She was held on an open charge.

Detectives say he is one of the most experienced and dangerous criminals of the Northwest. He was one of the leaders of the band which held up a bank in Nanaimo, Vancouver Island, in 1928, and was sentenced to sit in the Okalla prison and twenty lashes, according to police.

He was sought all over the west coast and police said they had identified him soon after the Everett hold-up last September.

SOME PATRONS LEAVE SHOES IN TAXICABS. Montreal, Jan. 27.—If a person loses an article in a taxicab in this city he has three out of four chances of having it returned. The Ontario Government has up-to-date computation by an official of one of the large taxicab companies of Montreal. If a person finds an article left in a taxi by a previous patron, he will probably be asked about it, although the average in this matter is not so easily arrived at. Day by day throughout the year from eight to two reports are received by taxicab patrons. Others that are not reported are deliberately left behind. For the most part these are shoes.

Underlings, the easiest thing to forget anywhere else, keep their distinction among articles turned in by drivers or reported lost. Next in number are purses, handbags, and parcels of all kinds, shapes and sizes. Among the unusual articles left behind are shoes, often of an age which has been evidenced by a patina of leather. The apparent explanation, according to the official, is that people suddenly deciding they need new shoes, buy these and change into them, leaving the old ones in the taxicab. Sometimes patrons, temporarily financially embarrassed and unable to pay their fares, give watches or other pieces of jewelry as pledges. Reporting on a shelf in the official's office is an interesting exhibit: a bottle of brandy and an envelope containing over $7. The unknown owner called a cab, gave the driver $10 to buy him the brandy and then failed to appear at the appointed meeting place.

Lost articles kept one month by the Taxicab Association, three months by the police, and then if not claimed are turned over to the driver who handed them in.

The average clear profit to anyone ever trying to dispose of troublesome pets by leaving them in taxicabs, as was the experience of a Chicago company, whose drivers turned in one tame skunk and one small but very active bear.

FEWER BOYS TO CANADIAN FARMS FROM BRITAIN

Toronto, Jan. 27.—In view of the present depressed state of industry and agriculture, and the large number of unemployed, the Ontario Government has under consideration a reduction in the number of farm boys brought over from England for placement on Ontario farms. It was learned from an authoritative source to-day.

This statement was made following receipt of a dispatch from London, England, yesterday to the effect that the Provincial Government of Canada had agreed to take 1,300 boys from Great Britain in the coming year.

A Canadian Press dispatch from London yesterday said: "The statement that the Provincial Government of Canada had informed the British authorities of their ability to take 1,300 boys from Great Britain in the coming year, and would guarantee their placement on approved farms, was made at a meeting of the Liverpool Education Authority to-day."

"The Liverpool Authority decided to send forty boys to Canada. Presumably the announcement was an outcome of the recent conference of provincial representatives at Ottawa, but representatives in London of the various Provincial Governments appeared on one day to have received no instructions in the matter."

MASSEY-HARRIS DROPS PREFERRED DIVIDENDS NOW. Toronto, Ont., Jan. 27.—Directors of the Massey-Harris Company, have decided not to pay the regular dividend due on the preferred stock on February 16.

This action is deemed advisable so as to conserve the liquid position of the company at this time. Massey-Harris Company has $12,000,000 preferred outstanding. It is a five per cent cumulative issue.

MAN CONVICTED ON FIVE CHARGES

Saskatoon, Sask., Jan. 27.—Found guilty on five charges, two of attempted murder and three of breaking, entering and stealing, Clare Bell, alias George Fuller, yesterday evening remanded for sentence until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock by Mr. Justice H. Y. McDonald.

To-day William Etherington went on trial in the Court of King's Bench on like attempted murder counts. Etherington and Bell yesterday were charged jointly with having attempted to murder Constable Francis R. (Tim) Healey of the Saskatoon city police, November 14 last, and with an attempt on the life of Constable Cecil Means of the Canadian National Railway police, who on that same day effected the arrest of the pair.

London, Jan. 27.—Lieut.-General Thomas Astley Cubitt, who attained distinction in Somaliland and on the Western Front during the Great War, yesterday was appointed Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Bermuda. He succeeds the late Lieut.-General Sir Louis J. Bols. General Cubitt had an outstanding career in military and administrative posts in Africa for many years.

FACTION FIGHT IN HAMBURG

Hamburg, Germany, Jan. 27.—Fifty policemen joined with Fascists and did battle with 200 Communists who attempted to interrupt a Fascist meeting here yesterday evening.

One person was killed in the shooting which accompanied the fracas, and three police and two Communists were seriously wounded. Three fascists were slightly injured, while several Communists received knife thrusts.

An emergency police squad arrested eighty Communists.

No Saskatchewan Liquor Commissions

Regina, Jan. 27.—Attorney-General MacPherson, addressing the Saskatchewan Legislature yesterday afternoon, stated it was the intention of the government to bring down legislation to make it illegal for any commission to be paid to any agent in Saskatchewan for liquor purchased by the Liquor Board. He also said everything possible was being done to stop bootlegging in the province, and asked that all information in the possession of the police that had any bearing on such activities be placed at his disposal in order that steps might be taken properly to deal with such matters.

The total cost of the Brownian trial to the province, including the investigating counsel fees, juries and witnesses, was $22,604.50, said the Attorney-General.

Chinese Bandits Release Missionary. Peiping, China, Jan. 27.—A telegram to the Apostolic delegation here to-day said Rev. No word has been received of the other two members of the mission who were captured with Father Mazzoli.

Cabinet Ministers Must Walk; Bennett Orders Fine Cars Sold

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—Government taxicabs should be hired. The decision will come as a very severe jolt to a good many people in Ottawa where the use of government cars for the social purposes of the families of those entitled has been the source of considerable criticism and envy.

The first car bought was some years ago when Sir Robert Borden was prime minister. During the war Sir Sam Hughes added a whole fleet to his department, where many of the secretarial staff were entitled to have them on call. During the King regime many new cars were ordered, and at least two beauties have been bought since Mr. Bennett came in. Personally, he rarely uses a car.

One minister didn't like his car and bought another one, making two in his service. Now the whole fleet of seven Arrols, Cadillacs, Packards and Graham's is to be sold for what it will bring.

HOHENZOLLERN IS SEVENTY-TWO

Dorn, Holland, Jan. 27.—Wilhelm Hohenzollern to-day celebrated his seventy-second birthday quietly at Dorn House in the Dutch village of his exile. Many messages of congratulation came from Germany and a number from American friends. Here, where the former Kaiser of Germany lives like a county squire, he worked as usual in his rostrum, digging and chopping wood like one of his Dutch laborers.

His daily constitutional walk through the village was part of his birthday routine. Most of his family were present except ex-Prince Oscar, who was operated on and is recuperating in a Berlin hospital.

Port-of-Spain, British West Indies, Jan. 27.—The Prime Minister for the season is very encouraging," says an editorial in The Nassau Guardian, Nassau, Bahamas Island. "Eight or nine packing houses are busy in New Providence, and in Indiantown, in engaged in taking crating material to Eleuthera Island (Bahamas) and bringing back tomatoes for shipment to Nassau and to New York and Florida, earning good freights both ways."

"Latest advices from Canada show that the market was well cleaned up before the steamer Lady Somers arrived with another consignment. Some of the tomatoes went as far as Winnipeg and Regina, arriving in good condition after ten or twelve days, which demonstrates that the Canada wants Bahamas' tomatoes."

The tomato season in New Providence began only a short time ago, and it is much the same in the other islands of the Bahamas. The reason for this late season is that until recently nobody knew whether it was worth while planting tomatoes because of the expense of transportation. It was not until assurances were given by J. Arthur McBride, general manager of the Fruit Importers' Union, of Montreal and president of the Eastern Canada Fruit and Vegetable Jobbers' Association, that planting began in earnest and the people entered into the enterprise with a degree of enthusiasm.

This dealer has traveled the whole of Canada, securing markets for produce from the Bahamas, and now he is here watching the exportation of the tomatoes. "Packing, refrigeration, and generally supervising shipments. Including the latest shipments about 120 crates of tomatoes will have been shipped to Canada before the season closes. The prices have remained steadily around $4, $3.50 and $3.25 for the three standard sizes, giving an average clear profit to the grower of $1 per crate, inclusive of cost of fertilizer. Some growers will have made nearly twice as much, this depending upon the output of their fields and quality of their tomatoes."

The Agricultural and Marine Products Board have advanced close on $5,000 and their security for this is the proceeds of a sale which came back through the board; of these proceeds at least $2 per crate pass through the board, so that when all shipments to the present date are sold and the proceeds received, the board should have some $40,000 passing through their hands, all of which is available as security for the $5,000 advanced to farmers.

RATIONALIZATION FOUND FACTOR IN UNEMPLOYMENT

Geneva, Switzerland, Jan. 27.—Rationalization of industry was indicated as a factor in the world unemployment situation while high wages were declared not to be a contributing cause to this evil in reports presented yesterday to the unemployment committee of the International Labor Office.

The report on rationalization tended to show that in a general way, measures of technical improvement, such as improvements in machinery, scientific management, standardization and industrial concentration, had led to at least temporarily to a certain amount of unemployment.

Figures from Canadian, United States and German industries were cited to support this view. Harold Butler, deputy director of the International Labor Office, in his report on rationalization found in Canada that the most striking changes were due to mechanization of agriculture, through which the farmers now operated with quarter or a third the number of men they formerly required. He found this tended to squeeze out many small wheat farmers in favor of large, industrialized farms.

ACID after meals

Get rid of your dread of pain after eating. Eat without fear of "indigestion," sour stomach, disagreeable gas or headaches. When your food ferments, "dis-agrees," lies like a lump in your stomach, it's a sign of too much acid. You need not resort to crude methods—take instead an anti-acid that will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting, soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume in acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-soaked stomach and bowels—assists these organs to function as they should. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, nausea or biliousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoonful to-day and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to colds or sickness. All drugstores in the Dominion sell it in 50c bottles.

Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle. (Made in Canada)

Dean Quainton To Address First United Y.P.S.

Approximately eighty-five young people attended the regular weekly meeting of the Y.P.S. at First United Church. That this society is maintaining the high standard of its programme is demonstrated by the increasing attendance and the keen enthusiasm of the members.

The meeting opened with a brief but very interesting devotional period, led by Rev. Bruce Gray, after which John Gough rendered a cornet solo, accompanied by Dorothy Morton.

One of the most enjoyable features of the programme was the showing of several reels of motion pictures, depicting a West Indian cruise, and sports in Canada, kindly loaned by the C.N.R. and shown by Messrs. McPherson and Gibson.

The latter part of the evening was devoted to a social under the capable direction of Mabel Marshall and Archie Miller. During this period games were played and a hearty singing much enjoyed, after which refreshments were served. During the evening John Gough, chairman of the musical committee, announced the Y.P.S. concert to be held on February 9.

The meeting next Monday promises to be exceptionally interesting as the main speaker of the evening will be Dean Quainton, and the First United young people will have as their guests another of the Young People's Societies of the city.

The South African government has started plans for the development of a great day industry.

MRS. E. MAYNARD NEW PRESIDENT BUSINESS CLUB

Sixteen New Members and Much Progress Recorded During Past Year

Installation at Y.W.C.A. Feb. 14 With Miss K. Campbell of Vancouver

Mrs. E. G. Maynard was elected by acclamation to the presidency of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club at the largely attended annual meeting held in the clubrooms, 1118 Langley Street, yesterday evening. Miss Kate McLaren, who automatically retires after two years in the chair, was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for her able guidance of club affairs during her tenure of office, Miss Mabel Cameron voicing the thanks of the club and presenting her with an exquisite piece of floral porcelain on its behalf.

INSTALLATION PLANS

Other officers chosen were: First vice-president, Miss Margaret Clay; second vice-president, Miss Elsie Richardson; treasurer, Miss S. E. Pogson; corresponding secretary, Miss A. B. White. The directors were appointed as follows: Miss J. M. Shaw, Mrs. E. Wills, Miss Thornley, Miss M. Roberts and Miss A. Lacey.

The new officer will be formally installed at a supper to be held at the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday evening, February 14, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Katherine Campbell of Vancouver, provincial vice-president, will officiate.

MUCH PROGRESS NOTED

In her presidential address, Miss McLaren noted much progress during the past year. The biggest step forward was that of the consummation of Canadian Federation, a step in which the Victoria organization was largely instrumental. The club had changed its name to Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, retaining its former name of Kunitz in the motto. On January 27, 1930, the club had moved into its own club rooms, which had proved a boon to the club generally and to members individually. Reference was also made to the splendid work of the club and the recently formed orchestra, to the many excellent speakers heard by the club, including the recent visit of Miss Dorothy Heneker, Dominion president.

Assistance lent to the Tillamook Girl Guide Company, to the Social Service League and to the Children's Aid Home was recalled. Sixteen new members had been added to the club roster during the year.

SPLENDID REPORTS

Mrs. E. Wills, recording secretary, presented a comprehensive report of the year's activities. Miss Pogson showed that the club's finances were most satisfactory. Miss Raine read the report of the library group. Mrs. McCrea, Tillamook Girl Guides; Miss Howell, music; Miss Richardson, Glee Club; Miss Lacey, refreshment; Mrs. Wills, legislative; Miss Cameron, federation; Miss Wigley, service clubs council; Mrs. Maynard, house committee; Mrs. Uvin, the Vancouver Club magazine; Miss Thomas, publicity; Mrs. Sweeney, orchestra.

A standing vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. J. H. Gillespie for many kindnesses shown to the club, to the retiring officers, and to Miss Lacey, indefatigable convenor of the refreshment committee, and to Miss Pogson and Miss Shaw for their able care of the finances.

Correspondence read included letters of appreciation from Miss Heneker and communications from the Service Clubs council concerning the forthcoming orchestra.

Appointment of Librarian Refused Because Protestant

Dublin, Ireland, Jan. 27.—Mayor County Council recently refused to appoint as librarian for the county woman, Miss Dunbar, who happened to be a Protestant, though her appointment was recommended by the local appointments commissioners. The council has been abolished by an order of the Free State Government because of its refusal, and General Richard Mulcahy, minister for local government, who issued the abolition order, has appointed P. J. Hartley, formerly clerk of Oldcastle Union, to act as commissioner in place of the council. The council's refusal to appoint Miss Dunbar was on the grounds that a Protestant was not a fit person to be in charge of a library in an area that was mainly Catholic.

FRIENDLY HELP MAKES APPEAL

The Friendly Help appeals for a number of articles urgently needed by poor families in the city, including a baby carriage, two mattresses, one for a single and one for a double bed; men's shoes, trousers and socks, also a long table to enable a poor woman to start dressing and help support herself and family. In addition to these immediate needs, the society would be very glad of donations of clothing, food and cash to meet the needs of families in precarious circumstances through lack of employment.

AIMEE MAY HAVE TO LEAVE TEMPLE

Mrs. McPherson in ill-health, Temple Board Deplores

Los Angeles, Jan. 27.—F. C. Winters, business manager of Angelus Temple, indicated yesterday that Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist and co-founder of the temple with her mother, Mrs. Mary McPherson, may leave her post as pastor because of ill health.

An announcement by Winters said: "The temple board realizes Mrs. McPherson's health is very poor, and we do not want her to expect her, to appear except upon those occasions when she is physically able."

Friends said Mrs. McPherson has contemplated resigning her post for some time. She left her last week for an unannounced destination in the East.

Winters' statement followed an announcement that Miss Mae Waldron, secretary to the evangelist, had resigned. Miss Waldron, denying a breach, said, "the move was simply made with plans we have been making for several years." Her position was taken by the evangelist's nineteen-year-old daughter, Roberta.

"I am going to make the expedition I had planned to make the summer of 1928," Miss Boyd said. "That trip was abandoned so we might as well search for Roald Amundsen and the survivors of the dirigible Italia."

"We shall probably do a good deal of hydro-photography, gathering of specimens and possibly some seal and polar-bear hunting."

DISTRICT KING'S DAUGHTERS BUSY

H. Hardie, district president, in the chair.

Reports of the Christmas work were given, showing that the King's Daughters have been very active along many philanthropic lines, giving hampers, fuel, clothing and cash to the needy, new clothing to the Friendly Help Society, and cash to the Salvation Army. Of divorced men who married again 134 married spinsters, thirty-six widows and forty-eight married divorcees.

Veils And Muffs Are In Again, But Are Different

Veils are being worn again, but they are mainly of the little nose-veil variety, and there seems little chance of a return of the day when every woman wore a huge veil over her hat. Formerly they were supposed to protect the skin, but the modern variety is worn to make a woman "alluring."

Muffs are also back, but also in miniature. Tiny little muffs are being carried, but there are none of the huge ones that mother prized twenty-five years ago.

Miss Caldwell says: "Magic Baking Powder is easy to use because its uniform, high quality never varies. I use and recommend Magic because my experience has proven that it always gives consistently better baking results."

Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Cut the hard, cold shortening into them with a knife, using a quick, short, chopping motion, or reduce the hard cold fat to tiny particles with a pastry blender or a steel-pronged fork. When the mixture resembles a very coarse meal, add the liquid, mixing quickly and lightly.

Turn out the dough on a slightly floured board, pat it down lightly or roll it to a thickness of about one inch. Shape with a small cutter or cut in squares with a floured knife. Dip the small lumps of sugar into syrup from canned or fresh raspberries. Press a lump into each biscuit, forcing it well down into the dough so that it will not run down the sides when melted.

Place the biscuits on a greased pan or baking sheet and bake in a very hot oven, 450° F., 12 to 15 minutes.

CLARA BOW NOW REMORSEFUL AS TO EX-SECRETARY

Sends Appealing Note to District Attorney Asking Mercy For Daisy de Boe

Los Angeles, Jan. 27.—Clara Bow, personification of flapper "it" self, stood revealed in a new light to-day while her erstwhile pal, Daisy de Boe, prepared to endure the Irish stew and brooms and mops of the county jail for another week.

All this because of the latest developments in Hollywood's drama of frenzied finance and friends that failed the Bow-De Boe "go." The actress Bow, highly volatile young woman of film fame, wealth and wit, had turned champion. From red, she shed of her hair and temper, she changed to blue.

She was blue, because, with a last-minute change of heart she made a plea for mercy for Daisy, the former secretary she had caused to be convicted of grand theft—and the plea was in vain.

Meanwhile Daisy reconciled herself to at least one more week of duress in the county jail, as a result of the granting of her plea for continuance when she appeared for sentence yesterday and her attorney filed a motion for a new trial.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY COLD

Clara sent an appealing, bow-crested, bow-scented note to the district attorney's office yesterday morning, asking if, please, couldn't her plea for mercy for Daisy, convicted last Friday, be communicated to Judge William C. Doran. Judge Doran holds Daisy's fate, and is in a position to give her a one-to-ten-year penitentiary term.

Deputy District Attorney David Clark, who prosecuted the blonde, former "best pal in the world" of the actress Bow, dashed Clara's hopes by saying the letter could not be shown to the court, because the district attorney's office could not take sides in the matter.

To complete Clara's chameleon-like metamorphosis Daisy said, "it was nice of Clara, but why didn't she help me when she was the witness stand?" Then La Bow became blue in a big way, in her Beverly Hills boudoir, where she is recovering from a bad cold.

CLARA SORRY

"Gee, I'm sorry," said Clara when Daisy's plight dawned on her. "But maybe they'll give her a break. We were such good friends, you know."

When Daisy appeared for sentence a new defence counsel replaced Attorney Nathan O. Freedman on the firing line. He was William Berne and he won a continuance when he pleaded insufficient time to learn his part in the newest of Hollywood's real life spectacles.

Attorney Berne attacked the jury's verdict of guilty to the count charging Daisy with the theft of $825 from Clara, saying it was a compromise and not representative of the jury's opinion, and charged Judge Doran erred in instructing the gentlemen. He asked for time to prepare argument on the motion for a new trial.

The slim blonde, who served the red-top as secretary, confidante and pal, will not know her fate until next Monday, when a new trial is granted or refused.

The case has attracted lots of attention through the nation. Judge Doran made known to-day that he has received many letters from widely scattered states reaching from coast to coast, and border to border, in which his conduct of the trial is commented upon, most favorably and otherwise.

Under the law in Worcester, Mass., suggested the best form of punishment for Daisy would be "a good licking," while many others recommended clemency for her.

Woman Educator Urges Creative Play to Develop Child's Natural Talent

Artistic Bent May Be Encouraged by Home Training, Says Mrs. Ivah Deering

By JEAN BLANSHARD

"Creative home play is what we need to-day. It is not one's vocation that is the most important thing in life. It is one's hobby! Help children to some kind of artistic expression and you have given them the possibility of adjusting themselves happily to life. Parents have a unique chance to do this. Parents should take it!"

It is upon these conditions, the result of years in social and educational work, that a fragile woman with an indomitable spirit and the courage to experiment with her own children, has done a remarkable piece of work in her own home, her home town and state and now has written an instructive guide for parents and educators in a book, "The Creative Home" (Richard T. Smith Inc.).

She is Mrs. Ivah Deering of San Diego, California, originator of the amusing Front Lawn Theatre, and the Spinet Neighborhood Chorus, assistant editor of the California P.T.A. Magazine and lecturer and writer on psychological and educational subjects.

"We can presume at least one talent, usually many, in almost every normal child," Mrs. Deering explained her theories, the result of ten years' practical work with children. "I do not mean genius, but talents. Adults' contribution consists in what I call 'exposing the children' to the best of all lines of art, music, beauty in every form and encouraging them to express themselves as young as possible."

HER HOME IS HER PLAY LABORATORY

To anyone visiting Mrs. Deering at home, her experiments are fascinating. She does her own work, writes, lectures, but always has found time for play with her two girls, Cleona and Donna. Their house is a neighborhood centre. On her front lawn some of the most original plays have been produced, written by neighborhood children, acted by them, in costumes designed and made by themselves.

"The rag bag and newspaper are our chief stocks in trade in the dramatic business," Mrs. Deering smiled. "Better than the most expensive, high-class costume, I consider the home-made one that a little child considers lovely."

Modelling is the most universal form of artistic expression in children, from the mud-pie stage on, according to Mrs. Deering. She makes a great plea for dirt, not sand or modelling clay but mud.

Talents for violin and painting often are found in the same child. A scientific bent and music often go together. If children are encouraged to try all kinds of expression, they will eventually develop those in which they have talent, Mrs. Deering said.

"Art for play's sake" is the slogan of the neighborhood play centre for children that Mrs. Ivah Deering, above, has sponsored in San Diego, Calif. The rag bag and newspaper contribute most of the costumes for the child actors who appear in original plays, written and produced by themselves, on the lawn of Mrs. Deering's home.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

Croquettes provide one of the most attractive ways of using up left-over meats. Or, very often cheap cuts can be boiled and used to excellent advantage in croquettes for a company luncheon.

Almost any kind of meat can be worked up in croquettes. Lamb, veal, tender roast pork, poultry and fish are most appetizing used this way. Combinations of meat are also satisfactory. Veal and ham, chicken and ham and veal and pork are savory mixtures.

The meat must be carefully prepared. Every bit of skin, fat or gristle must be discarded and only clear meat used in the croquette mixture. The meat is then minced and added to the sauce as it is removed from the fire. This is important, for care must be taken not to overcook the meat.

The crumbing and eggging is another important step in croquette making. Every particle of the surface of a croquette must be covered with crumbs and egg. The reason for this is that the egg quickly coagulates in contact with heat, forming a coating which the frying fat cannot penetrate. Since this coating protects the delicate texture of the croquette mixture, carelessness in crumbing and eggging may cause the croquette to break during the frying. A coating of fine crumbs, one of slightly beaten egg and a final coating of crumbs give good results. The shaping of croquettes is not a difficult task, but again care must be observed. The mixture must be handled very gently, with the least possible pressure exerted in molding. The usual shapes are the ball, cone, cylinder, chop and outlet. The last two shapes require a larger amount of croquette mixture than the others. After thoroughly washing hands, rinse in cold water but do not dry. Take a rounded tablespoon of the mixture and place on a board and shape quickly with finger. Roll mixture into a ball first. Then if not wanted in this shape, roll to a cylinder and flatten ends. If cone is wanted, flatten bottom and gently roll with greater pressure on top. The inside of a croquette should be soft and creamy after frying and the outside crisp and brown.

Lamb croquettes are typical of any meat croquette. The seasoning is changed for different varieties of meat but the basic rule remains the same whether fish, fowl or meat is used.

LAMB CROQUETTES

Two cups finely chopped cold cooked lamb, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 3 tablespoons butter, 1-3 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk or lamb stock, 1 egg.

Melt butter, add onion and cook five minutes. Skim out onion and stir in flour, salt, pepper and parsley. Cook and stir until bubbly. Slowly add liquid, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add egg slightly beaten. Cook and stir for one minute and remove from fire. Stir in meat. Spread on a platter to cool. When cool, shape, roll in crumbs, dip in egg and roll again in crumbs. Fry in deep fat for fifteen to twenty minutes. Drain on brown paper and serve with creamed green peas or carrots and peas.

Condition Of King's Aunt Is Now Critical

London, Jan. 27.—Princess Beatrice, aunt of the King, who broke her arm a few days ago, has developed an acute case of bronchitis, it was announced to-day. She is seventy-four years old.

Announcement of her new illness was made by her physicians. The Princess has been confined to her rooms at Kensington Palace since she broke her left arm.

The month of February is a "perfect month," according to advocates of a change in the calendar which would provide thirteen months of twenty-eight days each. They point out that every month, under their system, would be like February of this year. The "perfect month" begins on a Sunday and ends on a Saturday. There will not be another like it until 1942.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

Mrs. Elder will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. Send a stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

HELP THE EDITOR TO HELP YOU

It is impossible for anyone to ferret out the answer to any question about the baby. Mothers constantly ask me: "Why does baby cry so much?" "Why doesn't he gain?" "Why does he refuse his nap?" Without telling me one thing upon which to base an intelligent answer. Abnormal conditions always have a cause. But the cause is shrouded unless one knows what the conditions are. Very often it is the mother who is demanding something which is unnatural to the baby at a certain age though it was natural enough previously. But one can't guess this. One has to have knowledge of the child's age, weight, diet and general environment.

The following is a case in point. "Please tell me," writes Mrs. E. P. L. "What shall I do for my baby's bowels? They act so freely and after each nursing. He is a month old and I have tried medicine without effect. My first baby, now three years old, was the same way. He wasn't normal until one year of age."

CHILD MAY BE OVERFED

The first assumption, and of course it is only that, is that the baby is overfed. When babies are fed too often, or great quantities of rich milk, the result is bowel activity, following every intake of food.

Sometimes an underfed baby has no regular bowel movement but just a spot of a movement in each diaper. The only way to decide then whether it is one or the other is to note the baby's gain in weight. Babies will probably gain from fifteen to eighteen ounces the first month. They weigh at one week or later about what they do at birth and then gain from five to six ounces a week after that if well fed.

Larger gains than this weekly, could easily result in some such condition as you have noted. Perhaps your nursing too often in the day. No baby should be nursed more than once in three hours, and babies over six pounds in weight at birth do better on the four-hour interval.

NURSING PERIOD MAY BE TOO LONG

Sometimes mothers set a time limit for the nursing period and force the baby to live up to it. Baby has to nurse then, fifteen or twenty minutes, whether he will or not. Strong babies who nurse vigorously and with their minds on the job can get all they want to eat in five minutes. To force them to nurse for fifteen is just to stuff them unnecessarily. It has been computed that all babies get one-half of their nourishment the first five minutes of nursing, one-fourth of it the second five, and another fourth the third five minutes. A baby who has to nurse longer than fifteen minutes in order to be satisfied for four hours, is nursing from a waning food supply. He needs no longer nursing periods, or more frequent ones, but a complementary feeding that makes up the deficit of the breast.

I am sure my leaflet "Under and Overfeeding" will be helpful to you. You may have it for a self-addressed, stamped envelope. With this leaflet as a guide, and a good scales, you should discover speedily the cause of the abnormal number of stools.

BLUE RIBBON OBTAIN EARLY LEAD TO WIN

First Half Senior 'B' Women's Hoop' Champs' Beat Standard Laundry 25 to 20

Advance to Second Round of Knockout League; J.B.A.A. Defeat Royal Oak

Gaining a five point lead and holding it throughout the final two periods of play, gave the Blue Ribbon women's team a victory over the Standard Steam Laundry in the Vancouver Island Knockout League basketball game played at the Memorial Hall yesterday evening. The score of 25 to 20 indicates the closeness of the battle, with both teams missing plenty of easy shots. In the only league fixture J.B.A.A. Reds scored an easy win over Royal Oak, 17 to 8.

Fine shooting on the part of the Blue Ribbon forwards in the early part of the game was all that saved the first half senior "B" women's champions from going down to defeat at the hands of the Standards. The Ribbons were leading 11 to 6 at the half, and although the Standards pressed throughout the dying moments they were unable to overcome the early lead of their opponents.

Jessie Edwards with seven points was the leading scorer.

The Man From Down Under

By JIMMY THOMPSON

THERE'S STRONG EVIDENCE THAT TUNNEY LEFT HIS MARK ON THE MAN FROM DOWN UNDER

In the past many have contended that Gene Tunney didn't have a punch. The record of Tom Heene, before and after his battle with Tunney seems to discredit this belief. In the year and a half before he met Tunney, "Honest Tom" boxed draws with Paulino and Sharkey, outpointed Delaney and Rizzo and K.O'd Maloney in one round. These men represented the best in the heavyweight division. After his meeting with the marine, Heene in nine starlets was stopped twice by Victorio Campolo and Tuffy Grindits; has lost to Emmet Rocco and Frank Cavley also Maloney whom he had previously defeated. He outpointed George Hoffman and George Panka and won from Elizer Roux on a foul. "Honest Tom" still commands the respect of all who know him but Tunney seems to have left his mark on the man from down under.

ROSEBUDS TO MEET COUGARS

In the Senior League Jones Brothers will be making an attempt to get out of second berth at the expense of Victoria City, third standing squad in the loop.

Rosebuds—Baker, Jones, Raby, Musgrave, J. Murray, A. Murray, S. Scott and Sage.

Tacoma Bowlers Take First Place In Everett Sweep

Everett, Wash., Jan. 27.—The Imperial Alleys of Tacoma won the five-man event here Sunday evening in the Northwest open bowling tournament with a score of 2,912. The Washington Hardware Co. team, also of Tacoma, was second with 2,808.

Third place was taken by the Chapman Recreation Parlor of Vancouver, B.C., with a score of 2,797, and fourth place went to the P. C. Outlaws of Olympia by 2,772. The Pacific Mutuals of Everett scored 2,771, to land in fifth place.

BRUINS WILL MEET HAPLESS PHILADELPHIA

Leaders in American Section of N.H.L. Expected to Increase Lead To-night

Two Other Games Scheduled; Tulsa Increases Lead in American Hockey League

New York, Jan. 27.—The Boston Bruins, already enjoying a three-point lead in the American division of the National Hockey League, probably will draw still farther away from the second place Chicago Black Hawks this evening.

The Bruins will oppose the hapless Philadelphia Quakers at Boston. The Quakers in twenty-seven games have lost twenty-four, won two and tied one.

In an all-Canadian division struggle at New York, the Toronto Maple Leafs, second in that group, tackle the Americans in Madison Square Garden.

At Detroit the Falcons meet the Montreal Maroons. The Falcons occupy third place in the American group and the Maroons a similar spot in the Canadian division.

Tulsa, Okla., Jan. 27.—Hockey men of Tulsa, way down on the Arkansas River, to-day towered head and shoulders over American League entries from chiller climes. The Oilers of the Ochs Indian country stretched their margin of lead yesterday evening to three full games over Chicago Shamrocks, second-place squad.

Tulsa's newest victory is the second in two days over Minneapolis Millers, who could have been in second place themselves by winning instead of losing the two-match series here yesterday evening. The Oilers won by 6 to 3, and Sunday afternoon they slipped down the Millers 2 to 0.

Frankie Sheppard, who scored two points in the Sunday shutout, duplicated his achievement yesterday evening. Leo LaFrance, next to Gordie Gaudin, of Chicago, among the circuit's scorers, also contributed a pair.

World Lightweight Champion Outpoints Johnny Farr Before Capacity Crowd

Referee Jack Dempsey Forced to Make Boys Speed Up; Champ Wins Five Rounds

New Orleans, La., Jan. 27.—Credited by ringside critics with getting the better of Johnny Farr of Cleveland, in five of ten rounds here yesterday evening, Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion of the world, earned a newspaper verdict in their non-title bout. Jack Dempsey was the referee.

There were no knockdowns, the fight at times was slow, Dempsey having to use his authority to speed it up. There was some fast and snappy punching, however, with Canzoneri building up an early lead.

Canzoneri was credited with not being in the best of condition, while Farr seemed to show the effects of a recent attack of influenza.

Farr appeared ahead in two rounds and three were even. A capacity audience paid $14,750 to witness the fight in the Coliseum. Canzoneri weighed 132 and Farr 132½.

"Buzz" Arlett Sold To Philadelphia By Oakland Ball Team

Oakland, Jan. 27.—Russell "Buzz" Arlett, heavy-lifting outfielder of the Oakland Baseball Club, was sold yesterday to the Philadelphia Nationals.

Terms of the cash deal were not announced.

Sale of the big fly chaser to the Phillies eliminated a tricorned bidding party for his services. The Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Americans previously had made offers for him.

It will be Arlett's first trip to the majors, thirteen years ago as a pitcher, but injured his arm and was switched to the outfield ten years ago. He has been the most consistent hitter in the Pacific Coast League for the last eight years, never falling below .338.

RUGBY MEETING BILLED TO-NIGHT

All members of the Victoria Rugby Union are requested to attend a meeting in Room 312, Central Building, at 8 o'clock this evening. Yesterday evening the selection committee for the McKeehan Cup fifteen met and drew up the squad in accordance with that forecast in The Times yesterday.

In the scrum, Gerry Panning, J.B.A.A. was given the one vacant place, with Bruce Forbes registered as reserve. Larry Henderson was named captain of the team.

Four Mid-week Soccer Teams In Action To-morrow

All four Wednesday League football teams will be engaged in matches to-morrow afternoon. At the Royal Athletic Park the Garrison and Sanche United will meet, while at Beacon Hill the Navy and Hudson's Bay will lock horns. Both games will commence at 2.30 o'clock. The Hudson's Bay team will be as follows: Thompson, Armstrong, Tupman, Cull, Woodley, Oakman, Newell, Fish, Wright, Small and Davis.

AT THE THEATRES

EXCELLENT CAST IN
"THE BIG TRAIL" NOW PLAYING AT CAPITOL

For spectacular thrills there are few pictures greater than "The Big Trail," which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre.
The story is an enthralling page from American history, depicting with dramatic intensity the long, hazardous journey across continent which resulted in the founding of an empire. And running through the spectacle is a love story which reaches the heart of every theatre-goer.
The excellent performances of John Wayne and Marguerite Churchill, in the roles of the young lovers, stamp
these young players as potential stars.
El Brendel, David Rollins and such seasoned players as Tully Marshall and Tyrone Powers give splendid performances.

INDIAN LIFE HERE ON COLISEUM SCREEN

That it is as important to film and preserve the vanishing life of the American Indian to-day as it is to send archaeological expeditions to discover his life a thousand years ago—this is the motive back of the remarkable moving picture, "The Silent Enemy," showing to-day at the Coliseum Theatre. It is an intelligent picture, so faithful, so honest, so beautiful and so romantic as to make a permanent contribution to the mysterious story of the North American continent.

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN AT THE PLAYHOUSE IN STIRRING PICTURE

Francis X. Bushman Jr., noted for his "junior heavy" roles of the screen, plays a young doctor, just graduated from college, and the son of Louis Mann, stage star, in "Sins of the Children." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's drama of American home life, playing at the Playhouse Theatre, Lella Hyland, Elliott Nugent, Robert Montgomery and others appear.

COMPULSORY CAR INSURANCE PLAN

Will Be Introduced to British Columbia Legislature Next Year

Compulsory automobile insurance will be introduced into British Columbia a year hence, under plans shaped by the government, it was learned yesterday.
Legislation compelling all car owners to insure against damage to the public will be introduced at the Legislature's 1932 session.
Having made up its mind that a measure is required, the government is waiting only to see the outcome of an investigation, which Ontario is carrying on, to decide whether compulsory insurance should be introduced until the public is assured of receiving the lowest possible rates. The Ontario inquiry will determine whether the existing rates can be reduced, or not,
when the revenue of insurance compensation is increased by universal insurance.

Aurora Borealis To Be Subject of Talk
To-morrow Evening

The aurora borealis, or northern lights will be the subject of a lecture to be given at Victoria College this evening before the local branch of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada by Dr. G. M. Shrum, professor of physics at the University of British Columbia. The speaker will illustrate his address with colored lantern slides.
The general public is invited to the meeting.

JACKIE COOGAN AND MITZI GREEN PLAY
IN TWAIN'S NOVEL

Hundreds of children, and hundreds more who used to be children, thrilled to the oft-told but deathless adventures of Tom and Huck, Becky and Aunt Polly, Injun Joe and Muff Potter at the Dominion Theatre, where
"Tom Sawyer," Mark Twain's classic of childhood, will close to-night.
"Tom Sawyer" is the kind of material that the talking screen was made for. And in the hands of such capable young players as Jackie Coogan, Mitzi Green and Junior Durkin, it is well-nigh the greatest story ever told in audible celluloid.
Paramount should be credited with fautless showmanship in its manner of treating this immortal theme; the production is faithful to the letter.
Every whit of Mark Twain's original is beautifully, impressively translated to the screen.

WARNER OLAND IS DR. FU MANCHU AT COLUMBIA THEATRE

Twelve years ago, Warner Oland performed his first Oriental role in a silent serial thriller with Irene Castle and Milton Sills. Since that time he has specialized in Oriental characters.
With the coming of talking pictures,
Oland renews his success in the field in which many critics consider him
the top man. His first talking Oriental role was that of Dr. Fu Manchu in Paramount's thriller "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" based on a story by Sax Rohmer.
Now Oland is to be seen in a continuation of the characterization of the insidious Oriental villain, for the Columbia Theatre is now showing
"The Return of Dr. Fu Manchu."

PLANS MADE FOR PACIFIC CONFERENCE

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 27.—Preparations for the biennial conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations to be held in Chian next fall were discussed at the annual meeting of the executive council of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs here yesterday.
The greater part of the business related to the reception of reports and other routine. A brief statement handed out at the conclusion of the meeting, which was held in camera, said reports from the various units were very "interesting" and "reflected rapidly and widely growing interest in problems, international and economic,
throughout the Dominion.
The statement said: "Careful consideration had been given the selection and preparation of the necessary payment for Canada for the Pacific conference."
Sir Robert Borden, who has been president of the institute since its inception, asked to be relieved of office.
and Hon. Newton W. Rowell, K.C., was elected to that post. John W. Dufoe, Winnipeg, replaced Mr. Rowell as vice-president, with W. M. Birks, Montreal, as honorary treasurer, and John Nelson, Montreal, honorary secretary.

REEVE HAYWARD
JOINS SENATE
OF UNIVERSITY

Reeve E. C. Hayward of Oak Bay has been appointed a member of the senate of the University of British Columbia, replacing Judge P. S. Lamp-man, whose term has expired. Announcement of the appointment was made yesterday by Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education. Mainland appointments to the senate of the University announced last week, were
J. N. Harvey and P. Patterson.

POSTAL METER
CANADA CONTRACT
VOIDED BY JUDGE

Rescission of the contract between H.
Goulding Wilson and Samuel P. Jones of Victoria, on the one side, and Paul B. Berg and the Postograph Corporation Limited on the other side, for the control of the all-Canada postal meter machine business, was ordered yesterday by Mr. Justice Gregory in the Supreme Court.
Mr. Wilson, under examination on the stand at the hands of his counsel, H. W. R. Moore, testified that he and Mr. Jones as owners of the Canadian patents on the postal meter machine, by which envelopes are stamped and mailed without stamps, told of the agreement made with Mr. Berg to give him and his corporation the exclusive rights to develop the Canadian field for the machine. Mr. Berg agreed to pay $5,000 and finance the corporation to the extent of $50,000. He was to pay $3.50 a machine as royalty and put out so many machines a year. That was in February, 1920, but so far nothing has been done by Mr. Berg and the corporation to fulfill the contract. A statement was produced from the Postoffice-General of Canada to this effect.

HOSPITAL MUST PAY OR CLOSE, COUNCIL TOLD

Jubilee Facing Serious Financial Crisis Delegation Assures Aldermen

Resignation of several prominent members of the Jubilee Hospital Board is threatened unless the city can see its way clear to give the institution a substantial grant toward the reduction of its deficit, it was intimated to the City Council yesterday evening by a delegation which interviewed the aldermanic board.

Affairs at the hospital have reached a crisis as far as finances are concerned, it was stated. At the present time, the institution has a deficit of over $60,000, owing to local tradesmen, and in the words of one speaker, is faced with the alternative of "either closing the hospital or paying our bills."

The finance committee of the council, and the city comptroller and the health officer will discuss the matter with the hospital board on Friday afternoon.
AT A CRISIS
James Forman was the chief speaker for the delegation. Coming before the council was a sort of perennial affair as far as the board was concerned and probably the council was tired of hearing appeals for help, he said. Matters had now reached a crisis, however, and it was necessary that provision be made for indigent patients. He pointed out that the Jubilee was not an isolated case, as the Vancouver General Hospital last year had a deficit of $175,
995, towards which the Vancouver
Council had voted $100,000 and promised more.

Two years ago the hospital had gone behind $10,000 on the city account and had received $5,000 towards
it. In 1929, the deficit was $13,000 and nothing was received. A large drop of $35,000 had brought the total to $60,000 last year.

"We are asking you for a sum which will materially help to wipe out this deficit and provide for the sick poor of this city," he said.
LIMITED RESPONSE
So far the hospital had received only a limited response to its public appeal for funds, he continued, pointing out that services given to the Orphanage, the Children's Aid Home,
the Old Men's Home, the Aged Ladies' Home, the Solarium and the W.C.T.U.
Home last year, totaled $7,000. He referred to the fact that only one-quarter of the cost of the hospital had been borne by the city.

"It has come to a showdown. If we don't get help, someone else will have to act on our behalf. We've done our best," he declared.
Further, he stated, the service to indigent patients last year had been greater than ever owing to business depression. The actual deficit last year on operating expenses was $35,000. Other municipalities would be asked to contribute, he added.

Major Ansonbom questioned Mr.
Forman as to a form of health insurance would not be a good remedy for such a situation. Something of that nature would be helpful, Mr. Forman said.
Alderman Peden then moved that a city committee with the health officer and the comptroller, go into the matter with the hospital board.

E. Tomlin also spoke for the hospital delegation, stating that indigent work for the city last year amounted to $75,000, towards which $42,000 was granted. Collections in 1930 were $60,000, but in 1929, he said, were $45,000.
PAY UP OR CLOSE
"We owe $60,000 to local tradesmen and must pay our bills or close the institution," he added.
George McGregor, chairman of the board, added a few words, pointing out that all public subscriptions received so far had been applied to reducing the deficit and all new equipment obtained during the year had been through special donations. The deficit was merely on operating expenses.
Alderman Peden's motion passed and the meeting was arranged for Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

MAYOR TO GIVE FULL REPORT ON JOBLESS RELIEF

Ald. R. T. Williams Asks For Statement Which Is Promised By Ansonbom

A full report on the manner in which unemployment relief has been handled in Victoria will be brought before the City Council shortly by Mayor Ansonbom, settling out the way in which relief funds have been spent.

In response to a query from Alderman R. T. Williams, the mayor promised at yesterday evening's meeting of the council he would bring the report in as soon as possible. Alderman Williams asked for full details on all works carried out on the same scheme.

The sum of $1,000 was set aside by the council for the purpose of relief work in the city parks, on recommendation of the parks committee.
Minor matters handled by the council included the appointment of J. A.
Birnie as temporary assistant plumb-ing inspector at a salary of $150 a month.

An extra grant of $500 to the Friendly Help for the month of January was authorized.

A communication from the Victoria
Chapter of the Architectural Institute of B.C. asking that a registered architect be appointed to supervise construction of the Williams fair buildings was referred to the public works committee.
Annual reports of the city electrician, city wiring inspector and fire chief were tabled.

Animals in Winter

Few animals are better liked by people than squirrels.

The little fellows are popular in public parks, and are enjoying giving them peanuts or other food. We try to coax them close to us.

In the woods we can see them climbing trees, running along branches, or jumping from place to place.

Squirrels (like animals in general) have three main problems: They must obtain food.

They must avoid dangers to their lives.

They must provide homes for themselves and their offspring.

Squirrels are fond of acorns and other nuts, apple seeds, bird buds, and cones of spruce and hemlock trees. When they store food for the winter, they place it in all sorts of hiding places.

Sometimes squirrels put nuts and seeds under the ground, and either forget them or are unable to get at them.

UNCLE RAY

They must provide homes for themselves and their offspring.

BRITAIN PLANS DOLE CHANGE TO MEET DEBT

Income From Unemployment Insurance Not Enough to Meet Calls on Fund

By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Jan. 27.—John Bull plans to reform his dole. He wants unemployment insurance to pay its way, as it did before the Great War. It is an ideal to which all political parties are committed, but in turn all hesitate when in power to take the plunge.

Yet day by day, as the debt of the unemployment insurance fund grows, the situation becomes more difficult.

The fund is now in debt to the treasury to the extent of $300,000,000.

The present rate of unemployment, contributions to the fund equal only half the benefits paid plus the cost of administration.

To make the fund absolutely self-supporting, with unemployment as it is, means that either the contributions must be doubled or the benefits cut in half. And neither method would be popular in the great industrial districts.

Established in 1911, unemployment insurance was applicable at the outset to about 2,500,000 people in selected industries. Benefits were paid from a fund to which the workers, the employer, and the state contributed in equal shares. It was insurance pure and simple, and it did rather better than pay its way. By 1920 the unemployment insurance fund had a credit balance of about $100,000,000.

Then trouble began. The unemployment crisis of 1921, with its record 16 per cent. of unemployment, led the government to extend the scheme widely. From 2,500,000, the number of insured persons rose to 12,000,000.

SCHEME EXTENDED

The scheme, as then extended, covered practically all classes of workers except domestic servants and those on the land. Nor was this the only strain on the fund. In various forms and guises, such as "uncovered benefits" and "transitional benefits," benefits were paid out not adequately covered by contributions. The "dole" had crept in. With it, and the tremendous drag of industrial depression, the credit balance of the fund disappeared. To-day between 300,000 and 400,000 are drawing "transitional benefits."

SUGGESTED SOLUTIONS

F. O. Bowers, assistant-general of the Ministry of Labor, estimates the debt of the unemployment insurance fund may reach $300,000,000. He has submitted to the royal commission on unemployment three suggested methods of dealing with the debt of the fund. They are:

1. Leave the debt as at present to be paid off as and when the fund has a surplus of revenue over outgoings for benefits and administration.

2. Write off the debt due from the fund to the treasury.

3. Fund the debt—amortize it over a period of years by marking a portion of the income of the fund for the purpose.

Abolition of unemployment insurance is not proposed by any political party. All admit it has been abused, yet all recognize it has been an ever-present help in time of industrial trouble. The problem is to take the "dole" out of the unemployment insurance, to make the fund solvent, to make the scheme once again pay its way.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The special article in Saturday's issue of The Times on the growth of Victoria College, was written by G. D. Kennedy, a student at the institution.

Athol McBean, prominent Winnipeg grain operator, accompanied by Mrs. McBean, reached the city this morning and will be at the Empress Hotel for some time. They are regular visitors to Victoria each year.

February 17 has been set as the date for the dinner to members of the B.C. Legislature, to be held in the auditorium, starting at 7 o'clock. Most of the Cabinet Ministers have already accepted the invitation.

A unique collection of German official moving pictures taken during the Great War and of the present German army will be shown by Rev. Father Thiel this evening at 8 o'clock before officers and honorary members of the 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment at the officers' mess at the Armories.

Besides pansies, roses and spring flowers now in bloom, paying tribute to a winter only in name, an early crop of fruit is also forecast. A visitor from Bentinck Island to-day brought to the Times office a spray from a pear tree with most of the blossoms open and the rest ready to break from the bud.

Mayor L. D. Taylor of Vancouver and J. B. Williams, Vancouver city solicitor, arrived from the mainland by the night boat, and after a conference with Attorney-General Pooley caught the afternoon steamer back to the Terminal City. The nature of the conference, which had to do with Vancouver city affairs, was not disclosed.

Since January of last year there has been an increase of 2.2 in the number of telephones in use in British Columbia, the British Columbia Telephone Company reports. On January 1, 1930, there were 11,978 telephones. At the beginning of this month there were 117,653. Every city on Vancouver Island increased the number of telephones in use. In Victoria the number of telephones increased from 15,887 to 17,770. Thirty-six new telephones were installed in Port Alberni and twenty-one in Nanaimo.

A successful meeting of the Metropolitan Young People was held Monday evening, the South Saanich Y.P.S. being present 35 guests. The evening's programme opened with a vocal solo by Miss Norah Hudson, accompanied by Miss Genevieve Knapp. The main event of the evening was a mock city election, held under the direction of John Atkins. The following were elected to office: Mayor, Miss Margery Knapp; aldermen, Norman Walker, Charles Arnold, Keen; school commissioner, Harry Yeaton; school trustees, Misses Lillian Smethurst and Genevieve Knapp.

Under the chairmanship of General Cave-Browne-Cave, the president of the Victoria College Science Club held its first meeting of this year in the college last Friday. After a brief resume of the work done by the society during the last year the president introduced Prof. E. J. Savannah of the Faculty, who spoke on "Food Preservation and the Part the Chemist Has in It." Two other speakers on the programme were Richard V. Holmes, who discussed "The X-ray Spectra," and William O. Pindley who dealt with "Glasses and Gilding."

RAINFALL OVER HALF-INCH TO-DAY

Victoria Receives Share of General Downpour All Along the Coast

Between 5 o'clock this morning and 2 o'clock this afternoon rainfall here totaled 54 inches. To noon the fall had been 5 inches, but from then on a gradual slackening up in the downpour was noticeable and in the ensuing two hours only .04 inches fell. The fall from 5 o'clock yesterday morning to 5 o'clock this morning was .29 inches, but at other points the downpour was heavier. Estevan for the same period reported .330 inches and Vancouver .96 inches. Rain is general all along the coast to Oregon. In spite of the recent heavy rains here the total for the month is still .11 inches below the average.

ALBERNI WAS WITHOUT WATER FOR TWO DAYS

Special to The Times
Alberni, Jan. 27.—Owing to the unusually heavy rains which have fallen during the last few days, the rivers and creeks are rushing torrents. At Roger Creek, where the domestic water supply for Alberni is obtained, a large piece of pipe, resting on the bed of the creek, just below the dam was washed away, leaving the city without any water supply during Friday and Saturday. Working steadily for two days a crew of men has completed repairs and services were continued at midnight Saturday.

ITALIAN SHIP BRINGS STATE LIFE PARTY

Ss. California Will Arrive Here July 20 With Convention Delegates

With a special party of California State Life Convention delegates aboard the Libera steamer California, operating between Italian ports and the North Pacific Coast, will call at Victoria on July 20.

This will mark the first call of the California here since the inauguration of the new Italian schedule by this vessel, formerly the Cunarder Albano.

The Empress Hotel management has arranged reservations for the California State Life party, which will number at least 125 people.

It is expected that the sessions of the convention will be held aboard the California, as all the time in Victoria will be taken up by golfing and entertainment.

This convention is in addition to the nine conventions already listed for Victoria this year, particulars of which have already been announced. The California, according to information received at the hotel to-day, will arrive here at 10 a.m. on July 20, when the delegates will disembark. They will remain in the city until July 23 when they will set out on the return trip to San Francisco.

CEMENT COMPANY SUED BY RESORT FOR DUST DAMAGE

Before Mr. Justice Gregory and a jury in the Supreme Court here to-day, Harold B. Robertson, K.C., counsel for the Malahat Park Limited, launched suit for unstated damages against the B.C. Cement Company for the dust from the Bamber cement works, which they claim has destroyed the value of the surrounding resort property bordering on the Island Highway and running down to Saanich Inlet.

"We proposed to put up a hotel and make a desirable pleasure resort there for the people of Victoria and for visitors as there are now very few pleasure resorts close to Victoria where people can be sent," Mr. Robertson said.

"Our case is that about five per cent of all that goes into the grinding cylinder at the cement mill is spread over the surrounding country, with the result that it has become impossible to do anything with these properties. These properties worth $100,000 or more, have been ruined by this deposit of dust from the cement works. No stone is going to a summer resort where he will be overcome by smoke and gagged by dust."

Mr. Robertson indicated that the method used by the cement works was responsible for the difficulty, that with new processes there is no dust.

E. L. Tait, taking the stand for the Malahat Park Company, told of all the nuisances which the hotel, the natural amphitheatre on the property for the tennis courts, the golf links, the fishing lake and the flowing water, and the fact that the company had been buying lots in the subdivision were to be given privileges on Sandy Beach and on the golf course.

The trial is expected to last a couple of days.

H. A. Maclean, K.C., and H. G. Lawson are defence counsel.

The jury impaneled under Sheriff Goggin is Ernest Maynard, foreman; Walter Peterson, Ernest B. Halsey, M. Aubrey Kent, M. J. Little, J. N. Findlay, Norman A. Yarrow and Walter A. Tuck.

SOLLOWAY AND MILLS SEEK TO UPSET STATUTE

Appeal Court Asked to Rule Securities Frauds Prevention Act Ultra Vires

Argument continued this morning before the B.C. Court of Appeal in the appeal of I. W. C. Solloway, Harvey Mills, the firm of Solloway, Mills & Company and their employee, W. K. McGee, against a Supreme Court judgment by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, which upheld the validity of the Securities Frauds Prevention Act, affirmed the right of Attorney-General Pooley and Mark Cogrove to examine the books of Solloway, Mills & Company and to examine the respondent McGee on oath as to the transactions of the firm.

For the respondents J. W. deB. Parry, K.C., this morning stated that his first point involved consideration of whether a particular portion of the Securities Frauds Prevention Act concerned criminal or civil matters. He believed that the Federal Combines Investigation Act, considered in association with the Criminal Code, which concerns conspiracy in restraint of trade, jointly dealt with the matter of such inquiries as were proposed to be conducted under the provisions of the Securities Frauds Prevention Act. It was a well established matter of law that, if a federal statute dealing with criminal matters had application, provincial statutes referring to the same subjects were void. It was a well established matter of law that, if a federal statute dealing with criminal matters had application, provincial statutes referring to the same subjects were void.

A charge of conspiracy to commit theft had been laid against the appellants Solloway and Mills, said Mr. Parry. The Attorney-General had appointed Mark Cogrove to carry out an examination of the firm's books, employees or other persons, to ascertain whether the provisions of the Securities Frauds Prevention Act had been infringed.

An action had been instituted in the Supreme Court, by Solloway and Mills, to secure release of their books from the custody of Cogrove and to halt the proposed examinations of employees of the firm.

Judge W. A. Macdonald had also been asked to declare the Securities Frauds Prevention Act ultra vires, as it was claimed that the information acquired might be used in criminal proceedings of the act was valid.

Mr. Justice Macdonald, at the act said and ruled that the use which might be made of information acquired by investigations was not within the scope of the act's authority.

The hearing proceeded with A. H. McNeill, K.C., and W. H. Bullock-Webster appearing for the crown.

SALE APPEAL TRAVERSED
The Court this morning consented to extend the time for the hearing of the appeal of Sale vs. the East Kootenay Power Company, and permitted the case to be traversed to the March sessions in Vancouver. The action is for compensation for a boy, Jack Sale, whose hand was severed by high voltage current near Cranbrook. A jury awarded the lad $12,500, but the trial judge later dismissed the case because Sale was trespassing on the property.

The application was jointly supported this morning by E. C. Mayers for the Power Company, and C. L. Harrison for Sale.

CUMBERLAND SUIT
The action of the city of Cumberland vs. the Cumberland Electric Light Company was briefly introduced this morning, when Mr. Mayers and Mr. Parry assured the Court that the franchise had been assigned to the company, and that the company was in possession of the property.

The Court yesterday afternoon reserved judgment in the appeal of the B.C. Motor Transportation Co. Ltd. vs. a verdict of $4,000, awarded Mrs. Marjorie Price, for the death of her husband in Vancouver as a result of a motor accident.

U.S. CUTTER STOPS SEARCH FOR RENAHAN

Sept. 27.—The U.S. coast-guard announces it has abandoned its search in northern waters for Pilot Renahan and two companions, missing since last October.

The cutter Cygan, which has been assisting a British Columbia police boat and Pilot Ansel Eckmann, Seattle, in combing the vicinity between Prince Rupert, B.C., and Ketchikan, Alaska, has resumed its regular patrol duties.

Renahan was last seen while flying north to aid in the search for Capt. E. J. Burke and two companions in the Liard River district.

It was not known whether fishing boats also engaged in the hunt, and Eckmann would give up the quest.

The annual meeting of the local Anti-Vivisection Society will be held at the New Thought Hall, Port Street, on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock. David Leeming will preside. Reports will be made of the year's work and officers will be elected. Rev. Lionel Kenworthy will give a brief address, and Mrs. Sweeney, Mrs. M. Stewart and Mrs. White will contribute a trio for piano and violin.

POWYS HERBERT IS CONVICTED SECOND TIME

Fourth Trial Starts To-day After Judge Finds Him Guilty in Third

Widow Identifies Three Cheques For $4,000 He Got From Her

Harry Powys-Herbert, head of the Consumers Coal and the Canadian Iron and Coal Companies, facing six trials here for stock fraud charges, was found guilty at the end of the third trial yesterday evening, and start of the fourth trial was made to-day. He has now been convicted on two charges and was acquitted at the end of the first trial.

Mrs. Mary Morrison, widow of Montreal and Victoria, who lost $35,000 in the stock deals, is chief witness against Powys-Herbert in all trials. Judge McIntosh ruled that it was proven that Powys-Herbert was guilty of fraud and obtaining $5,000 by false statements, when he obtained it from her between July 5 and July 17, 1929, by saying he needed it to secure the position of managing-director, when it turned out that he was managing-director all that time.

THREE CHEQUES IN ONE DAY
Mrs. Morrison went on the stand at the opening of the fourth trial to-day and told how Powys-Herbert had induced her to give him three cheques on October 24, 1929, one on the Imperial Bank of Canada for $2,000, one on the Royal Bank for $2,000 and one on the Imperial Bank for $1,000. They were all made payable to H. Powys-Herbert and endorsed by him.

She identified the cheques as they were submitted to the court by W. G. Moreby, K.C., prosecuting attorney, who then produced the Royal Bank deposit slip showing the full sum of the three cheques had been deposited to Powys-Herbert's savings account on October 25. The prosecuting attorney then produced a large bundle of cheques by which he showed that Powys-Herbert had drawn on this money to pay personal bills of all sorts during the succeeding months.

"Powys-Herbert always told me he had so many friends here and they were the richest people in Victoria, and I believed him," Mrs. Morrison said, as Stuart Henderson, defence counsel, prepared to take up cross-examination.

Judge McIntosh adjourned the court until this afternoon so that the prosecution could bring certain bank witnesses.

The series of stock fraud trials is expected to take at least two days yet.

CUMBERLAND PRESSES FOR FUEL OIL TAX

Asks Associated Boards to Take Matter Up With the Dominion Government

Support of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in an appeal to the Federal Government to provide in the next tariff revision for a three-cent per gallon tax upon all fuel oil imported into Canada is sought in a letter received to-day from the Cumberland Board of Trade.

E. H. Barry, secretary of the board, encloses a copy of a resolution passed by the Cumberland board. Coal mining, the resolution points out, has played a prominent part in the development of the island and the province generally. Canada's industrial life depends upon its ability to develop a free and untrammelled supply of fuel within the Dominion.

The gathering at Vanderhoof, with further Indian scenes, were shown. Views of Lillooet, the Pavilion Mountains, and the Fraser River added to the picturesque rugged beauty of the picture, the small towns appearing extremely quiet near the raging torrents.

Further views were shown of the different members of the party, along with pictures of the roads over which they traveled.

Port Alberni, Jan. 27.—Myrtle Lorraine Gill, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gill, can claim the distinction of being Alberni district's first baby to be born in 1931. Baby Myrtle was born on January 17, at the West Coast Hospital. With her birth is forged another link in a pioneer family which has been resident in the district for forty-five years.

The same measure of protection that is accorded to other basic industries and manufactures within the Dominion is requested for the coal industry.

Besides requesting a three-cent per gallon tax is sought on that proportion of the crude oil imported for refining which is sold in the home market as fuel oil.

MICE GNAWING MATCHES CAUSE OF ONE FIRE HERE
The actual damage by fire dropped by $12,098.10 to the sum of $26,799.66, there being property loss in 102 cases. The statistical record of the department shows the greatest fire loss occurred during the cold weather of last January, when out of seventy-three fires, 102 occurred in twenty cases, totaling $7,197.46. August was the next bad fire month as far as loss was concerned, total damage amounting to $6,378 at four fires out of fifty-three. March, May and December were the only other months in which the loss was over the three-figure mark.

FIRE PREVENTION
On fire prevention work the department was considerably active, fire drills being held in schools and addresses given to the pupils. A total of 9,919 inspections of buildings were made and 261 fire prevention notices served and twenty-six buildings removed under the Fire Marshal's Act.

Film of Golden Twilight Caravan Displayed to Kiwanis Club To-day

Province Gains Wide Publicity From Interesting Tour Last Year

The beauties of British Columbia's hinterland, as seen on the specially conducted Golden Twilight Caravan tour last year, were shown to members of the Kiwanis Club by Major Gordon Smith, head of the Provincial Government Publicity Bureau, at the club's luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

Before projecting the moving pictures on the screen, Major Smith spoke of the proposed highway through the Province, which he said would weld a link in the chain of roads from Alaska to Buenos Aires. He noted the value of the pictures and publicity matter that was being distributed as a result of the campaign, saying that many magazine writers, newspapermen and cameramen had sent out material to all parts of the United States and Canada on the proposed highway.

REASE IN INQUIRIES
As a result of this a great increase has been seen in the number of United States enquiries sent to the provincial publicity bureau, Major Smith said.

Opening with one or two views of the Parliament Buildings, the first reel traced the start of the caravan, showing scenes at the Canadian-United States boundary, where His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Tolmie and the British Columbia party joined the United States group.

INDIAN ELEMENT SHOWN
Hazelton and New Hazelton, with views of the Skeena River, Indian ceremonies, showing the "dead houses," were also portrayed, along with one of two exhibitions of Indian dances. Scenes at Klaploof Village, mountain ranges and glaciers, views of Smithers and the Nanaimo River, Summit Lake and many fine views of rugged beauty, were shown.

The gathering at Vanderhoof, with further Indian scenes, were shown. Views of Lillooet, the Pavilion Mountains, and the Fraser River added to the picturesque rugged beauty of the picture, the small towns appearing extremely quiet near the raging torrents.

Further views were shown of the different members of the party, along with pictures of the roads over which they traveled.

Mild Weather Curtails Feeding of Corn In East

It was estimated that foreign sales of Manitoba wheat overnight reached a total of 750,000 bushels.

"Message from Winnipeg says that stocks there should decrease around 7,000,000 bushels this week and that at the rate of shipments since January 1, there will be no large carry-over in Canada at the close of the season, August 31." The Chicago Tribune says.

"Mild weather is curtailing feeding of corn and commercial buyers are expecting larger receipts shortly. Lack of buying power and the abundance of cheap substitutes discourage bullish efforts now."

Chicago, Jan. 27.—It is said the strength in July wheat in Chicago is due to droughty conditions all over the winter wheat belt and to expectations of a milling demand for wheat to fill exporters' orders for flour under the arrangement with the Grain Stabilization Corporation. The market is regarded as oversold and traders expect the situation will be readjusted within a short time.

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)
 Winnipeg, Jan. 27.—Wheat was firm and steady within a narrow range to-day, and while the full advance of 1/2¢ was not held, prices were higher than the previous close throughout the day, and through the daily offers most of the time. At the start there was some fair buying by continental import houses and others, and overnight sales were estimated at around 300,000 bushels, and a little further business was drifting in from time to time. The offerings were about equal to the demand of the day which did not follow the extreme advance.

There were numerous foreign bids in the market, but these were somewhat out of line with current levels. Demand for cash wheat continues very quiet, but offerings are extremely small. Generally speaking, there is little wheat changing ownership from day to day. There was no change in the flour situation and new business being received is very moderate in volume. Breadstuffs reported that importers were buying only on a hand to mouth basis, and are anticipating selling pressure from Argentina and Australia. Breadstuffs available supplies decreased 2,223,000 bushels for the week. Local sentiment appeared to be a little more friendly toward wheat to-day, but the crowd was not inclined to force prices much higher at the present time, but on the dips there is very little coming out. Dry conditions prevail, especially in Illinois. Futures closed 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ higher.

Coarse Grains—A few cars of barley were worked to Eastern Canada since the close of the market Monday, but otherwise all coarse grains were very quiet. The futures market was firm and steady with little or no selling pressure in evidence. Export business in everything is still flat.

On a closed 1/4¢ higher to unchanged. Barley 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher and rye 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher.

Flax—Dull and featureless with a little lower tendency due to improving conditions in the Argentine. Closing prices 1 1/2¢ to 1 3/4¢ lower.

Liverpool—Dull and unchanged to 1/4¢ higher on Winnipeg.

Business At Bottom Next Trend Upward Brookmire Reports

"For all practical purposes business is now on bottom," says The Brookmire Economic Service in its analysis to-day.

"The next important trend will be upward."

An exact timing of the reversal is impossible and will not be definitely known until the new trend is established. But the balance of probabilities favors a period of fluctuation around present levels and then gradual improvement.

"The December decline in business was small." The analysis goes on. "Preliminary figures place our business index at 75.4 per cent of normal as compared with 76.1 per cent in November. This recession of less than one point compares with a decline of 3.3 points in November and an average drop of 2.4 for the four months August to November inclusive. Importtant items which showed declines in December were iron and steel, construction and copper production. Gains were registered by carloadings, automobiles and department store sales.

"The news of the past week was favorable for two important industries. Steel mill operations, advanced to forty-four per cent of capacity against forty-one per cent the week before. Even of more importance was the better tone in steel prices.

"The most unfavorable news of the week was that of additional troubles in the oil industry. Organized opposition to proration is developing. Price cutting is now coming out of the open.

"Evidence that business has reached bottom is multiplying. A period of fluctuation around present levels will follow, leading gradually into improvement and revival."

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 27
 (By Logan & Bryan)

United Corporation Also Moves Upward With a Heavy Turnover

Studebaker Weak as Dividend Is Cut to $1.20 a Share For Year

(By Logan & Bryan)

New York, Jan. 27.—At the close of the market this afternoon the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials at 170.82, up 0.37 points for the day; for twenty rails at 109.36, off 0.29 points; and for twenty utilities at 63.53, off 0.57 points.

Sales for the day totaled 1,597,000 shares.

United States Steel Corporation to-day reported total earnings for the final quarter of 1930 of $23,083,791. This compared with $27,995,359 in the previous three months' period and $29,885,351 in the fourth quarter of 1929.

Mixed movements characterized to-day's dealings in the stock market. At the start prices were somewhat irregular as the result of active selling operations which centered in a number of the leading industrials. American Can, for instance, and some of the other issues in this group moved lower. After mid-day, the list developed firmer tendencies. U. S. Steel recovered a point of sale from its early low and some of the other issues throughout the list registered slight advances.

In the utility group, United Corporation continued to attract attention and on a heavy turnover moved generally upward. Rumors of new financing by directors of the company and the accrual of rights to shareholders probably served to induce recent buying activities in the latter stock.

Auburn, by soaring 5 points to 134 1/2, continued to lead the automobile division in which prices were generally mixed.

Weakness of Studebaker was the result of selling on the announcement of a reduction in the common dividend rate to $1.20 annually.

Heaviness in many of the leading rail issues was due mainly to the publication of some of the earnings statements of the latter companies for the month of December, also for the entire year of 1930. In most instances earnings results were generally in line with what had been anticipated. The action of the market to-day was indicative of a rather strong technical condition.

STILL A SHORT INTEREST

Ally Chemical has sold at a new low to-day to have a sharp rebound. Short covering was on a large scale last week and the market naturally sacrificed some of its underlying strength with the elimination of a portion of the bear contingent. There is still quite a good sized short interest, however, as outsiders have been selling stocks during the advances of last week despite warnings against such operations which came from the conservative commission houses.

Factors which caused covering were the advances of the rails and public utilities into new high territory for the year. Naturally many believed industrial averages would confirm the upturn in the two other groups, and this caused the more timid bears to take in their commitments. With this demand satisfied those who were putting out stocks late Friday and again on Saturday and this morning found less opposition from buyers.

The market has been meeting a test around the upper rim of the trading range in which it has been moving for some weeks. Resistance was encountered recently when it seemed likely that the laws of December would be broken. Much depends on the action of the market during the last week. If stocks can go through previous tests on volume it would be considered a good sign.

Important interests who expressed the view that the market was turning in December have been satisfied with its action since the time. They did not look for a spectacular advance, but hoped for steady progress with the usual interruptions which always develop.

These interests now express the view that the market is building a good foundation for improvement in the latter months this year.

Warnings against adopting the short side are coming from conservative interests who also have been buying the standard stocks on sharp reactions. Many are waiting for the industrials to confirm the recent strength in rails and utilities before adopting the long side.

NEW FINANCING CONDITIONS NOW BEST IN YEARS

Bond Market Shows Itself Unusually Favorable to Short Term Liquid Investments

New York, Jan. 27.—Prices of listed bonds varied only slightly from Monday's closing in quiet trading to-day. The failure to make any headway for the second successive day was explained in part by the appearance of $20,000,000 in railroad and utility financing.

Offering of the $20,000,000 5 per cent refunding mortgage issue of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, the largest single place of new financing of the month, brought a reaction of about 2 points each in listed bonds of the carrier. On rather large offerings the three 5 per cent bond issues dipped to 98, the price at which the new issue was marketed, and the 4 1/2 and 5 1/4 also sold off sharply. A few of the legal calls that are selling around par or above were firm, but the group as a whole turned heavy.

In addition there were two utility offerings, one for $27,000,000 and another for $4,000,000. The latter small changes were the rule among other domestic bonds. A few foreign loans made quiet progress and the group as a whole displayed a firm undertone.

In bond circles it was expected that in whole circles it was expected that

TURNER VALLEY GAS MAY YIELD BENZINE, ALCOHOL FROM WASTE

Edmonton, Jan. 27.—It is believed that Turner Valley gas, which at present is going to waste at the estimated rate of about 10,000 tons a day, can be converted into benzine in sufficient quantities to be commercially profitable, also into alcohol in paying quantities, and the scientific experiments being made along these lines in the oil fields of Turner Valley, Alberta, will be continued on an increased scale. Encouraging reports thereon were made recently at a meeting of the associate committee on gas research of the National Research Council.

Dr. E. H. Boomer, assistant professor of chemistry, University of Alberta, stated that he had produced benzine from Alberta natural gas by a simple heat treatment in appropriate apparatus. The benzine had been produced in sufficient quantities to suggest commercial possibilities, it was stated.

HYDROGENATION WORK

"The report of Dr. E. H. Boomer of his work in the hydrogenation of Murray bitumen and extraction of benzine from natural gas, and a report on the successful experiments which Dr. Cameron has obtained in the National Research Laboratories at Ottawa in obtaining alcohol from gas, were the features of the meeting," says The Journal. "While no sensational discoveries were announced, the committee felt that the work being done in Alberta by gas research men had shown results which justified consideration being given to an increase in the scale of the experiments."

Dr. Whitby reported on the work done by Dr. Cameron of the staff in the National Research Laboratories at Ottawa. The line of work followed had aimed at processing the gas so as to give a material for the manufacture of a group of chemicals, of which industrial alcohol was the most important.

"It is believed the results are far in advance, both in respect of yields and costs, of those obtained in any work of a similar character. According to the committee they indicate the possibility of securing as much as two gallons of industrial alcohol from one thousand cubic feet of gas at a cost sufficiently low to be within the realm of economic possibilities. Viewed as a whole, the work of the year showed such substantial progress that it was decided to continue the investigation as rapidly as arrangement could be made."

GOLD PROSPECTORS SUBSIDIES URGED

Toronto, Jan. 27.—At the annual meeting of the Bank of Commerce Sir John Aird had something to say about gold and the gold situation which is of vital interest to all those concerned in Canadian gold mining, says an editorial in The Mail and Empire. He suggested that leading nations should join together in stimulating the industry by offering subsidies to successful prospectors.

In his opinion there should also be subsidies for research and metallurgy with a view to reducing milling costs so that low-grade gold ores may be successfully worked. The McIntyre mine in Porcupine camp is just completing a new mill which introduces a more economical system of treating ore than that heretofore in use; and it may be adopted by other mines and even improved upon.

Aluminum Industry Gains in Canada

According to Agricultural and Industrial Progress in Canada, a monthly review published by the Department of Immigration and Colonization of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the aluminum industry is making good progress in Canada. The manufacture of finished products of this material has been established here for a good many years. No figures are available regarding the quantity of bauxite smelted, but during the last three years there has been an increase of over 120% in the production of aluminum products. The industry is now established on the basis of raw material worked up from the ore, and indications are that it will reach large proportions.

The smelting of bauxite ore in Canada is carried on by the Aluminum Company of Canada at Arvida and Shawinigan Falls. This company was attracted here largely by the abundant supplies of electric power available. Their coming was linked up with the developments at the Saguenay Falls, where there is the site of their plant in this district, is on the Saguenay, where there is a good harbor available. Ore is brought from the company's mines in Canada and America and comes by water to a point about twenty miles from the plant. The plants at Arvida and Shawinigan carry on the process of smelting and refining the material, but the materials there produced are worked up into kitchen utensils and other products at the other plants of this company, as well as at the plants of other companies in Canada. Canada Wire and Cable Company is another company that produces aluminum products. This company is the second largest manufacturer in Canada of aluminum transmission lines and supplies large quantities of this material to the various power companies. The company has been manufacturing aluminum since 1911, and for 1930, the company's business in this material was larger than in any previous year, showing an increase of thirty per cent over 1929.

LORNE GOLD HOLDERS GET NEW OFFER

Bralco Development Company Proposes to Spend $312,000 on Property

A new offer entailing the immediate expenditure of $312,000 will be submitted to shareholders of Lorne Gold Mines Limited, by the Bralco Development and Investment Company Limited, at a meeting to be held February 4.

In a letter to shareholders the protective committee point out the serious situation which faces the company. Unless immediate and definite provision is made to pay the amount of $55,000 due January 30, it will lose the six cents upon which practically all of the company's assets are based.

The Bralco Company offers to supply $150,000 for the erection of a mill of 100 tons daily capacity and the provision of adequate power for mining and milling unless by agreement between their engineers and the engineers of Lorne Gold the erection of a mill of such capacity is not justified.

Should, however, the engineers representing the Lorne Company not be in agreement with their engineers on this point the Lorne Gold shall have the privilege of representing the property on repayment within ninety days to the Bralco Company of all moneys advanced and expended on the property.

CONFEDERATION LIFE SETS NEW HIGH RECORD TO MARK DIAMOND JUBILEE

"The greatest production of new business in the history of the company," is the official announcement of the record of the Confederation Life Association for the year 1930.

"The total new insurance issued and revived, amounted to $67,792,346—a substantial increase over the production of the preceding year.

"In the Canadian field of production the corresponding increase in new business amounted to $7,665,640, eight of the nine provinces contributing to such increase. The total insurance in force at the close of 1930 amounted to $39,028,570, an increase for the year of $3,177,322—a most satisfactory result in view of the disturbed economic conditions prevailing during the past year.

"The total assets of the Confederation Life Association, as at December 31, 1930, amounted to $81,534,064, an increase for the year of $7,487,421. These assets are invested in high-grade securities, including first mortgages on residential and business properties. Government and municipal bonds, etc., and, in accordance with the practice of the Association, are shown in the balance sheet at their book values. The certificate given by the association's auditors states that 'the values placed by the Dominion Government Department of Insurance on bonds and debentures, stocks and real estate are, in the aggregate, in excess of the values shown for these assets in the statement'—striking evidence of the high quality of the association's invested assets.

"The total net revenue for the year, from premium deposits, interest and dividends, amounted to $20,177,450, while the surplus earned on the year's operations was $2,940,590, and again exceeded that of any previous year in the history of the association.

"Payments to policyholders, and beneficiaries in 1930, included $2,688,766 for death claims and $756,457 for matured endowments. The total payments to policyholders, during the year amounted to $8,650,908, an increase of $1,098,249. Profits to policyholders payable in 1931, are on the basis of the high scale of profit allotment in 1930.

DIRECTORS ELECTED

The board of directors was re-elected as follows: C. S. Macdonald, president and general manager; Robert S. Walde, vice-president; Colonel J. F. Meikle, vice-president; Thomas J. Clark, John Firstbrook, James E. Ganong, Wilmet L. Mathewson, B. B. Crony, W. C. Leitch, Arthur P. White, Charles P. Smith and P. A. Thomson.

Having commenced business in 1871, the Confederation Life Association is this year celebrating its Diamond Jubilee anniversary with an international convention of representatives to be held in Toronto in August next.

Final and complete figures on the volume of Canadian bond issues, as compiled from the weekly summaries of A. E. Ames & Co. Limited, issued to-day, show the total for 1930 at $769,022,807, as compared with $653,388,556 in 1929, an increase of $115,634,251 for the year.

No increase in municipal or corporate financing occurred and a decline in railroad issues was offset by a substantial increase in the issues of the Dominion and Provincial governments.

While over fifty per cent of the new issues were distributed in Canada, the distribution in Great Britain was curtailed, as compared with 1929, and the share absorbed in the United States increased from forty per cent of the total in 1929 to forty-seven per cent in 1930.

The statistics are as follows:

Canadian Bond Issues, 1929-1930

Government	Municipal	Railroad	Total
1929	$113,163,807	$90,049,507	$203,213,314
1930	$177,209,000	$23,985,000	$201,194,000
Great Britain	4,785,000	1,500,000	6,285,000
1929 total	$299,157,807	$114,064,507	$413,222,314
1930 total	$118,900,500	$115,534,456	$234,434,956

Washington, Jan. 27.—Legal limitations on "903 market" operations in the Federal Reserve Bank were opposed before the senate banking investigation committee Saturday by Adolph C. Miller, a senior member of the Federal Reserve Board, as a means of preventing credit inflation in periods of undue speculative activity.

Miller, however, blamed the 1927 purchase of government securities on the open market by the Reserve Bank for the great credit flow to the stock market in 1928 and 1929. He said if a different policy had been followed at the time the country would be much better off to-day.

Miller described the open market operations of 1927 as the "greatest and most costly error" ever made by the Federal Reserve or any other banking system and predicted another crash in seven years if such practices were not controlled.

Working capital, it is anticipated, will be raised in England. London financiers provided $50,000 in the interim, pending negotiations.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Reductions up to 40 per cent below prices of a year ago in line with declines in commodity prices, are typical of the trade as shown in the spring and summer general catalogues of Montgomery Ward now coming off the press.

As to its possibilities, as far as time element is concerned, to-day brings us into the lower limits of the five to eight days which it was thought it could run. Having arrived within the range of its possibilities, and considering yesterday's market action, which still shows a lack of desirable leadership, I think that from now on what we get will be a thinning out of advances, with less issues participating in what is left of it."

Murder A Bridge

CHAPTER XXIV

With the thrill of his discovery singing blithely along his nerves, Bonnie Dundee, special investigator for the district attorney, had at last judged the intention of following the new trail alone. Hadn't Captain Strawn taunted him not too good-naturedly about his inability to get along without the younger man's help?

But he was glad, both selfishly and unselfishly, when half an hour later, he threw open the front door of dead Nita's house to the chief of the homicide squad, Carraway, the finger-print expert, and the two plainclothesmen who had searched the top floor for the missing weapon or the murdered himself soon after the murder had been committed. For if Strawn needed his—Dundee's—help, he needed the expert machinery which Strawn commanded. And it was good to feel the grip of gratitude in the old chief's handclasp and to see the almost shy twinkle of apology in his hard, old, gray eyes.

Dundee led the way up the front stairs of the upper floor, glad to hear the heavy tread of official feet behind him.

"I guess you've got it all doped out who the Selim woman's gentleman friend was," Strawn commented coolly, as he followed Dundee into the pleasant, big bedroom.

"I believe I have, but I need Carraway to prove my hunch," Dundee acknowledged.

Eagerly, swiftly, he displayed his first tangible find—the open window, the drapes smelling of cigarette smoke, the evening paper of the day before, the faint odor and greatness of butters-pomade upon the pillow case of the bed, which had clearly been slept in since the linen was changed.

"Now, Collins—Harrison—Dundee whirled upon the two silent plainclothesmen. "I want to know what you saw in these rooms when you searched them early this evening that you don't see now. You looked into the closets and drawers, of course?"

"Yes, sir," Collins answered. "And they were all empty, Dundee. Me and Harrison didn't spend time smelling pillow cases, and I admit we didn't pay no attention to that there newspaper."

"Empty?" Dundee echoed. "Are you sure?"

"You too, Harrison?"

"What are you driving at, boy?" Captain Strawn asked indulgently.

Briefly, with disappointment flattening his voice, Dundee told of his finding the kitchen door ajar, after he had made sure he was locked on his first round of the house.

"I worked it out this way," he continued, despite Strawn's grin. "Dexter Sprague was in the habit of spending the night here, when he was here. He would give him an evening of her company. He was here last night, according to the maid, Lydia Carr. Nita sent her into Hamilton's picture show. Nita and Sprague quarreled last night, but I am positive he spent the night here anyway. Certainly there was no return to the house, since Sprague would have had to go as he did. I have another strong reason for thinking his belongings were here at least until noon to-day, but that can wait for the moment."

"How do you make that out, Bonnie?" Strawn asked, his grin wiped away.

"Try to remember how Sprague looked when you first got here," Dundee suggested. "I saw him 'twenty minutes after you did, but he was wearing an immaculate stiff collar, and there were still traces of talcum powder over a close new shave. And you will remember that he said he had made a half-hour's trip by bus and had walked the quarter of a mile from the bus stop on Sheridan Road to this house. It was a mighty hot afternoon, chief."

"Not conclusive," Strawn growled. "Then there's another straw to add to the weight of my conclusions," Dundee went on, unabashed. "Remember that Janet Raymond was on the front porch watching for Sprague, while the 'death hand of bridge' was being played? . . . Oh, she tried to protect him. Well, I'll read you the notes I made when I was questioning her. I looked them up while I was waiting for you. Here! I had said to her, 'You saw Mr. Sprague toting down the rutty road, hot and weary, but romantic in the sunset?' And she answered, stammering, 'I was—"

"Umm," Strawn grunted. "What about the proofs you're holding back?"

"Come along, chief—you, too, Carraway!" Dundee answered, and led the way into the bathroom. "I felt sure these rooms would yield a very definite clue, even though Sprague when he sneaked back to-night to get his tell-tale bag, apparently made every effort to wipe his fingerprints off the furniture and bathroom fixtures. . . . Now, Carraway, if you'll step upon this little stool and look along the top of this medicine cabinet—"

net, you'll find what I found—and which I didn't touch."

"The finger-print expert did as he was told. When he stepped down, he was holding, between the very tips of his fingers, a safety razor blade."

"No dust on it, you see," Dundee pointed out. "Now if you don't find Dexter Sprague's finger prints on it, my whole theory topples."

"How am I going to know whose finger prints they are till we get hold of Sprague?" Carraway asked reasonably.

"We don't need him—for that purpose, at least," Dundee assured him. "Downstairs in the living-room, on a little table in the southeast corner of the room, you'll find a little red glass ash tray which no one but Dexter Sprague used all evening. It was clean and empty when I saw him use it first. I think you'll find on it all the prints you need."

"So you think Sprague killed her because she was through with him?" Strawn asked.

Dundee shook his head. "Since I don't like Dexter Sprague a little bit, chief, I'd like to think so, but—"

Colwood

The annual St. John's Sunday school party and distribution of prizes held at Colwood Hall on Friday, was an enjoyable affair. Supper was served the children at 5.30, after which they enjoyed games and music. Miss James, president of the senior W.A., presented the prizes for attendance as follows: Charlie Carnegie, Olive Cockerton, Charles Cockerton, Ethel Brown, a pair of pajamas and a couple shirts, one of 'em dirty, some socks and collars and a shaving kit."

Dundee drew a deep breath, and clapped the red-faced detective on the back in high good humor.

"There simply had to be a bag somewhere," he laughed. "This is the way it is, Strawn. . . . Nita and Sprague roved last night. Sprague left Ralph Hammond here to go through the place as freely as he liked, making his estimates on the job of finishing up the other half of the night. And Ralph? But let that wait for the moment."

"Got any proof that it was Sprague who stayed here and not the Hammond boy?" Strawn interrupted sharply.

"I'm coming to the proof," Dundee assured him. "Or rather, the rest of the proof that I haven't already given you. You're damned hard to convince, chief! But let me go on with my theory, which I think covers the facts."

"At lunchtime, when Nita received that note from Sprague, I imagine she got a hunch that he hadn't taken her seriously, that he had not removed his belongings. You remember Betty Crane said Nita had Lydia Carr follow her into her bedroom, as soon as Nita got home from the luncheon?"

"Well, it's my hunch that Nita asked Lydia if Sprague's things were gone when she cleaned these rooms this morning, and that Lydia said no. Nita then probably told Lydia to pack herself, and I feel positive that Lydia did so, for she must have felt that when she cleaned these rooms, she was helping Sprague to get away."

"I also feel sure that Sprague arrived at least half an hour before he said he did, by some back path across the meadow, that he came up to these rooms that he considered his, found his things packed, but went about shaving and changing his shirt and collar, regardless. I also feel sure that Lydia followed him upstairs to explain and impress upon him that Nita was not to be deceived. She was quite likely that she was not through picking up after him when he descended by the back stairs and surprised her in the back room, as she said. That accounts for the fact of Lydia's not hearing the kitchen bell the first time Mr. Dunlap rang."

"Come along, chief—you, too, Carraway!" Dundee answered, and led the way into the bathroom. "I felt sure these rooms would yield a very definite clue, even though Sprague when he sneaked back to-night to get his tell-tale bag, apparently made every effort to wipe his fingerprints off the furniture and bathroom fixtures. . . . ## BEDTIME STORY Uncle Wiggily's Funny Ball Game

(Copyright, 1931)

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Twistytail, the jolly, fat pig gentleman, stood in the snowy woods. Mr. Twistytail was tossing from one paw to the other a glass jar with a hot carrot inside. Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Twistytail started to take the hot carrot to Mr. Whitewash, the Polar Bear gentleman, to cure his cold.

But the carrot, which Uncle Wiggily had boiled, was so hot inside the glass jar that the two animal friends had to take turns carrying it and tossing it from paw to paw so they wouldn't get burned.

"Well, have you thought of anything yet?" asked Mr. Twistytail, for when Wiggily found the carrot too hot to hold it while the rabbit tried to think of a way for taking the hot vegetable to the bear's ice cave without burning their paws on the hot jar.

"I have begun to think," Uncle Wiggily answered. "Just hold the carrot bit longer, Twisty, my friend, and I will have no more trouble. Hold it awhile. It's easy enough to say hold it," grunted the pig, "but I can't hold it in my paws. I have to toss it back and forth and change paws or I would have some blisters."

"I can see it myself!"

So he kept on tossing the hot carrot in a glass jar from paw to paw and Uncle Wiggily continued to think and all of a sudden, the rabbit said:

"I know! We'll hold some snow in our paws and lay the hot carrot on top of the snow and carry it along that way."

"It sounds all right to me," Mr. Twistytail remarked. "Here, I'll let you try that way first, since you thought of it."

Uncle Wiggily picked up some snow which he held in the fur mittens on his paws and then he said:

"Toss me the hot carrot, Twisty."

The rabbit gentleman tossed the carrot to the pig. The pig caught it in his paws and the heat began to melt the snow which ran down Uncle Wiggily's legs and it wasn't very pleasant. Let me tell you! Snow water on a cold day running down your legs is no fun!

"Oh, oh!" said Uncle Wiggily. "This isn't going to work! I can see that, Twisty."

"Why did you boil that carrot to cure the Polar Bear's cold," answered the rabbit, "so I boiled it properly. I should say you did!" grunted the pig.

"Here! Catch!" suddenly called Uncle Wiggily, as he tossed the hot carrot to the pig. "You hot, you hot, but until I get rid of this half melted snow and then maybe I can think of a better way."

"I can't hold that hot carrot very long," grunted the pig as he caught the glass jar, "but I'll juggle it while you think."

So he juggled, or tossed, the hot carrot from one of his paws to the other. And then Uncle Wiggily thought hard. All of a sudden the pig began to laugh.

"What are you laughing at?" asked the rabbit.

"I was thinking this was like some funny game—us tossing this carrot back and forth!" grunted Mr. Twistytail.

"Ha! That's it! A jolly, funny ball game! You have it, Twisty! That will do for the pig to do. You hot, you hot, the hot carrot in the jar is a ball. We'll walk along toward Mr. Whitewash's ice cave tossing the hot carrot between us. In the way to Mr. Whitewash's ice cave, we'll have to hold it in our paws a while. It will not burn us if we toss it to and fro, and in that way we shall have no trouble."

"That sounds like a good idea," Mr. Twistytail said. "But one of us will have to walk backward in playing this funny ball game."

"Yes, that's so," agreed Uncle Wiggily. "We must be face to face as we toss the hot carrot between us, and one will have to go backward."

"Who will go backward?" asked the pig.

"Well, sort of count out to decide," said Mr. Longears. "Think of a number from one to ten, Twisty, as Mr. Twistytail thought and said 'Seven!'"

"Wrong!" cried Uncle Wiggily with a jolly laugh. "You lose! You must walk backward and I will walk forward and we will toss the carrot between us in the way to Mr. Whitewash's ice cave, with Mr. Twistytail stepping backward. Then, all of a sudden, Mr. Longears said:

"Oh, Oh!"

And what happened must be told to-morrow. Then, if the little cream jar with the hot carrot inside, and a bottle of milk, you may be told about Uncle Wiggily outing the Fox.

VOTE AGAINST KULAKS

Moscow, Jan. 27.—The Congress of Communist Youth, whose members number 3,000,000, ended a series of meetings here to-day with the adoption of resolutions supporting the Soviet Union and calling for extinction of the kulaks (wealthy peasants) by 100 per cent collectivization of farms. The league was awarded its second order of the red banner and congratulated on its activity during the last seven years, during which its membership has grown from 800,000.

Following a record haul of herring recently the fish were sold in Deal, England, at two for a cent.

In a recent month more than 300,000 bags of coffee were shipped from Colombia.

CFCP operates on a wave length of 29.5 metres, 1,030 kilocycles, using a power of 1,650 watts.

Warning to Wives Who Neglect Their Husbands
For Their Children—Folly of Girl Who Deliberately Lets Herself Fall in Love With a Married Man

DEAR MISS DIX—I wish that you would try often to impress upon young married couples the wisdom of cultivating an intelligent common interest in some worthwhile subject so that during the later years there may be an understanding and sympathy between them. Consider my case as one in point. I married a highly intelligent woman, but with the advent of the children all of my wife's interest in intellectual pursuits vanished and has never returned. Now our children are gone and we find ourselves again alone, with health, a fine home, leisure, money, everything to make a comfortable living. These ought to be our golden years of life, but instead of that we are bored to extinction because we have nothing in common. Evenings I read scientific work along my line or prepare scientific reports while my wife mends or writes to the children in different cities. Our conversational output is limited to her asking me at bedtime to fix the furnace. Meantime used to be our zero hour, but now I turn on the radio and we do not have to say a word beyond "Please pass the butter."

My wife is a fine housekeeper, but sometimes I feel that I would be willing to brave dyspepsia and trade her off for a woman who would feed my soul with some intellectual conversation, even if she did not know enough about house-keeping to boil water without burning it. A LONELY HUSBAND.

Answer—I wish that every bridal couple who read this man's letter would take its warning to heart. For the catastrophe that has befallen him is one that will befall them unless they guard against it.

Of course, to tell a young husband and wife passionately in love with each other that they must begin laying up some interest for their old age is like telling a millionaire that he must begin saving up something for a rainy day. It seems absurd to them. They are perfectly sure that no matter how long they live they will never be less romantically in love and that their interest in each other will never wane. As for telling them that they must make a conscious effort to keep in touch with each other, they laugh such advice to scorn.

Then life steps in and, like the little river in Jean Ingelow's beautiful old poem, the two who walked on either side of the tiny stream holding hands and singing together, soon find that it widens and widens until they lose touch and finally get so far apart that they cannot even call to each other across the gulf that separates them.

The babies come and the wife gets so absorbed in the children that she literally has no thought nor time for her husband. She quits doting herself up for him because the children tear at her laces and muss her chiffons. She won't go out with him to places of amusement because she can't leave the children. They have only such things to eat on the table as are fit for the infantile digestion.

Worse still, she lets herself slump mentally. She doesn't read anything but baby books. She isn't interested in anything that doesn't concern children. When her husband tries to talk to her about what he is interested in or tell her a good story she doesn't listen, her mind isn't even with him. It is upstairs in the nursery. And when he takes her to a play she clutches him at the critical moment and demands to know if he supposes the baby has got uncovered.

And just as woman absorbs herself in her children, a man absorbs himself in his business. He thinks of nothing else. He reads nothing but the stock market and the headlines in the papers. He is too tired when he comes home at night to want to go out. He is too nerve-wrecked to want to talk at home.

He makes no more effort to entertain his wife than she makes to entertain him. He tries no harder to find a mutual meeting ground than she does. They are interested in each other's daily lives only in so far as the wife wants her husband's business to be prosperous, because that means added comfort for her and her children and the husband is fond of his wife and children and wants to know that they are healthy and well-taken care of.

But that's all. Neither cares for the devil. Go into any average home at night and you will find the husband and wife sitting up in a silence so thick you could cut it with a knife. Neither one has anything to say to the other, and in their middle age they are as much strangers to each other as if they had never met before.

This is worse on the woman than it is on the man, because the man always has his business, so he has something with which to fill his life, but a woman's children are bound in the course of nature to leave her and go about their own affairs and she is sunk if her only interest in life is centered in them.

It is related that when John Bunyan saw a drunken man he said: "There, but for the grace of God, goes John Bunyan." So every young married couple looking at these dull and bored middle-aged couples may well say that they are as we shall be unless by the grace of God we have intelligence enough to begin cultivating some mutual interest and unless we deliberately keep in touch with each other and keep chums and companions.

It is nature when a young couple are in love on their wedding day, but it is art backed by common sense when they are in love on their silver wedding day. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—There is a young man in my neighborhood who has been married between three and four years. I see him very often and feel that if I keep up seeing him there will be a great love case. What shall I do? What is your idea about married men flirting with young girls? N. E. A.

Answer—My idea is that in a flirtation between a married man and a young girl the man is a cad and the girl is a fool.

I can think of nothing more cruel than a man can do than to deliberately win the affections of a young girl, knowing that he cannot offer her honorable marriage, that he is keeping her from marrying some good man, and that his attentions compromise her and ruin her good name.

And I can think of nothing else so idiotic that a girl can do as to let herself become involved in such an affair, because for her it can only spell ruin. There is nothing that she gets out of it except a bedraggled romance, which is a shame to her instead of being a crown of glory as a woman's love dream should be.

If a girl has one spark of honor in her whole make-up, if she has any sympathy, if she has any sex loyalty, she must realize what a terrible crime she is committing when she tortures a sister woman with jealousy, when she takes a wife's husband from her and robs little children of their father and breaks up a home. The woman who deliberately does that is worse than the sneak thief and the suffering she causes is worse than that inflicted by a murderer.

And what does it profit the girl herself? If she lets herself love a married man, she lets herself in for the most devastating of all passions, a hopeless love, a love that has to feed on crumbs, a love that lives in daily fear of losing its object.

Probably no woman in the world is ever so tortured with jealousy as is the one who loves a married man and who sees his wife bearing his name, filling the place he gives her in society, spending the money he earns, while she skulks along in back streets to keep rendezvous with him in places where his friends never go.

Sometimes without either one intending it, a married man and a woman, fall helplessly in love with each other. That is a tragedy. But for a girl to walk deliberately and with open eyes into such a situation, to let herself fall in love with a man while there is still time to save herself, is sheer madness.

Don't play with fire. You are sure to get burned if you do. DOROTHY DIX.
